

David Roberts Welsh Journal

Modern English on the left | Welsh source transcription on the right

Family-history and journal section, source PDF pages 68-109. Historical spelling, names, dates, uncertainty markers, and manuscript order are preserved. Modern English is translated from the Welsh manuscript and is kept separate from the later RDR historical English witness. Pages containing original English or mixed English/Welsh source material are labeled accordingly. Bracketed markers identify editorially documented uncertainty or physical damage.

Reading status. “Needs review” means first-pass transcription and translation are complete but scholarly uncertainties remain. It does not mean the page is untranscribed.

PDF page 68

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: David Roberts | Scribe: David Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: reviewed

Modern English	Welsh transcription
January 6, 1854 David Roberts	Ionawr 6 1854 David Roberts
My history	Fy Hanes
Behold, what follows is a little of my ancestry, as I was able to obtain it.	Wele a ganlyn sydd ychydig o'm hachau fel y gallais eu cael.
I was born on April 5, 1814, in Merionethshire, in Nanmor, in a house called Rhos, on the old estate of the renowned Lord Dafydd Nanmor (the place is now associated with Beddgelert in Caernarfonshire). Eight children were born to our parents: Robert, who died at three months old; Edward; Robert; Elinor; David; William; Daniel; and John Roberts. The five eldest were born at Tanyrallt, the next two at Brynwyngyll, and the youngest son, John, at Llety in the parish of Llanfrothen.	Ganwyd fi yn y flwyddyn 1814 Ebrill y 5 yn Sir Feirionydd yn y Nanmor mewn ty a elwir y Rhos hwn ar hen etifeddiaeth yr enwog Arglwydd Dafydd Nanmor (yr hwn y lle yn awr ag Beddgelert yn Sir Gaernarfon). Ganwyd wyth o blant i'n rhieni, sef Robert (bu farw yn dri mis oed), Edward, Robert, Elinor, David, William, Daniel, a John Roberts. Y pump hynaf a anwyd yn y Tanyrallt, a'r ddau nesaf yn Brynwyngyll, a'r mab ieuengaf John yn y Llety yn mhlwyf Llanfrothen.
Edward married Elinor Griffith, daughter of Griffith and Chatherine Williams of Bronyforllan in Llanfrothen.	Edward a briodwyd ag Elinor Griffith, merch i Griffith a Chatherine Williams, Bronyforllan, yn Llanfrothen.
Robert married Gwen in Llanfrothen. She was the daughter of William and Mary Williams of Cae Glas, Llanfrothen. Twelve children were born to them.	Robert a briodwyd yn Llanfrothen a Gwen, merch i William a Mary Williams, Cae Glas, Llanfrothen; ganed 12 o blant iddynt.
Elinor married John, son of William Humphrey and Chatherine James of the parish of Festiniog. Nine children were born to her; they emigrated to America.	Elinor a briodwyd a John, mab i William Humphrey a Chatherine James, plwyf Festiniog. Ganwyd iddi naw o blant; ymfudasant i America.
I, David, married Chathreina, daughter of Thomas Richards and Ann Morris of Creua Mawr, Llanfrothen. Six children were born to us: the eldest, Robert, followed by Thomas, David, Ann, Elizabeth, and Jane Roberts.	Myfi David a briodwyd yn Llanfrothen a Chathreina, merch i Thomas Richards ac Ann Morris, y Creua Mawr, Llanfrothen. Ganwyd i ni chwech o blant, yr hynaf Robert, Thomas, David, Ann, Elizabeth a Jane Roberts.
William married Margred, daughter of Evan Roberts and Jane Griffith of Gair y Rallt bach. Four children were born to them: Elizabeth, Robert, Evan, and William Roberts; the youngest died as an infant.	William a briodwyd a Margred, merch i Evan Roberts a Jane Griffith, y Gair y Rallt bach. Ganwyd iddynt bedwar o blant, Elizabeth, Robert, Evan a William Roberts; yr ieuengaf a fu farw yn faban.
Daniel married Gwen in Llanfrothen, daughter of John Lloyd and Chatherine [continues on PDF page 69].	Daniel a briodwyd yn Llanfrothen a Gwen, merch i John Lloyd a Chatherine [continues on PDF page 69]

Editorial note: The page begins a clean first-person ancestry entry dated January 6, 1854 and headed `Fy Hanes`. The named `David Roberts`, first-person marriage statement, contemporaneous date, and continuous compact hand support David Roberts as content author. Feature-by-feature comparison with the directly signed `David R Roberts` entries dated February 4 and April 6, 1858 confirms David Roberts as the scribe within the limits of historical manuscript-image comparison. The entry continues directly onto Welsh PDF page 69. It has a confirmed historical-English parallel on RDR PDF page 3. RDR is a close translation with paraphrase and normalization of several names and places. The Welsh manuscript remains primary: source forms including `Chatherine`, `Chathreina`, `Margred`, `Bronyforllan`, `Brynwyngyll`, and `Gair y Rallt bach` are preserved rather than replaced by RDR forms. Coherent comparison across pages 68-72 confirms the opening locality as `Nanmor` and the lord's name as `Dafydd Nanmor` from the Welsh letterforms. RDR instead supplies `Parish of Festiniog` and `Lord Dudley Nanney`; that conflict remains recorded rather than harmonized. The Welsh manuscript gives David's birth date as April 5, 1814, while RDR page 3 gives April 14, 1814; both source readings are preserved. No hymn, song, poetry, composition, or publication reference appears on this page.

PDF page 69

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: David Roberts | Scribe: David Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Jones of [unclear: Cae'r Llwynog], Llanfrothen. Four children were born to them, as follows: Catherine, Elizabeth, William, and John Roberts.	Jones [unclear: Cae'r Llwynog], Llanfrothen. Ganwyd iddynt 4 o blant fel y canlyn, Catherine, Elizabeth, William a John Roberts.
John (the youngest of us) married Mary Edwards, daughter of Edward Richards [damaged: residence or identifying words illegible], Festiniog, and Mary Owens. [Damaged: approximately one line concerning their children.] Their names were as follows: Elizabeth, Sydney, William, and Daniel Roberts. Robert, the first and eldest, was buried in Beddgelert cemetery.	John (yr ieuengaf o honom) a briodwyd Mary Edwards, merch i Edward Richards [damaged: residence or identifying words illegible], Festiniog, a Mary Owens. [damaged: approximately one line concerning their children]. Eu henwau fel y canlyn, Elizabeth, Sydney, William, Daniel Roberts. Claddwyd Robert y cyntaf hynaf yn Mynwent Beddgelert.
[Damaged: several lines of family-history prose are partly abraded; isolated words including Edward, Gelli, and Calvin Methodist survive, but the sentences cannot be translated defensibly.]	[damaged: several lines of family-history prose are partly abraded; isolated words including `Edward`, `Gelli`, and `Calvin Methodist` survive, but the sentences cannot be reconstructed defensibly].
[Erased and overwritten: a broad horizontal band of approximately four lines; only isolated strokes and words survive.]	[erased and overwritten: broad horizontal band of approximately four lines; only isolated strokes and words survive].
Elinor is now in America, as I understand it, in the state of Vermont. The names of her children are as follows: Robert, Catherine, William, John, David, and Sydney, who died and was buried [damaged: place and surrounding words illegible]. [Damaged: clause introducing the following verse.]	Mae Elinor yn awr yn America fel y tybiaf, yn Nhalaeth Vermont. Enwau ei phlant sydd fel y canlyn, Robert, Catherine, William, John, David, Sydney, yr hon a fu farw ac a gladdwyd [damaged: place and surrounding words illegible]. [damaged: clause introducing the following verse].
[Damaged verse, four lines:]	[damaged verse, four lines:]
[Damaged: Fair ruddy rose ... was cut down]	[damaged: Hardd Rosyn Gwridog ... a dorwyd]
[Damaged: Its cutting ...]	[damaged: Ai doriad ...]
[Damaged: ... rose ...]	[damaged: ... Rosyn ...]
[Unclear: Who sees its playthings]	[unclear: Y gwel ei deganau]

Editorial note: Page 69 continues the Daniel Roberts and Gwen Lloyd family entry from page 68, proceeds through several Roberts-family notices, and includes a four-line verse associated with a death in Elinor's family. It continues toward page 70, where the same compact Welsh family narrative and hand remain visible. The page has extensive ink loss, abrasion, erasure, and overwriting. The upper genealogy and lower Vermont passage are substantially legible, but a broad middle band and portions of the verse are not recoverable from surviving letterforms. Damage markers represent manuscript loss; words from RDR have not been supplied as Welsh text. RDR PDF pages 3-4 provide a confirmed historical-English parallel and help establish the order of the Daniel, John, Edward, Robert, and Elinor family notices. RDR contains fuller prose and names than the damaged Welsh page, so it is linked as a close translation/paraphrase with expansion and normalization, not used to reconstruct missing manuscript wording. The Welsh list visible here appears to differ from RDR's fuller list of John and Mary Roberts's children; the source-specific forms are preserved. The verse occupies four visually distinct lines and is in the same compact hand and ink as the surrounding entry. Its introductory clause is damaged, and no surviving wording establishes a connection to the hymn attributed to `D. R.` in the 1852 Welsh LDS hymnal. It is therefore treated as an unidentified damaged verse, possibly commemorative, rather than identified as a known hymn. The first-person wording and continuity from the dated `Fy Hanes` entry on page 68 support David Roberts as content author. Despite local damage, the surviving hand matches the directly signed `David R Roberts` entries dated February 4 and April 6, 1858, confirming David Roberts as scribe within the limits of historical manuscript-image comparison. No secondary hand or later insertion is apparent.

PDF page 70 Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: David Roberts | Scribe: David Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
and Daniel. Daniel died in America. [Unclear: Ebenezer and the youngest was born in America and did not live there]; [unclear: they also belong to the Calvinistic Methodists].	a Daniel. Daniel a fu farw yn America. [unclear: Ebenezer a'r olaf a anwyd yn America ac nid oedd yn byw yno]; [unclear: y maent hwythau yn perthyn i'r Methodistiaid Calfinaidd].
Now I shall think a little about my own history.	Yn awr meddyliaf ychydig am hanes fy hun.
I was raised amid great poverty. The ordinary laborer's wage was my father's wage, which for many years was from one shilling to one shilling and sixpence a day, while also feeding himself; this was often too little to obtain bread for the family. My tasks until I was about eleven were [unclear: begging or driving], gathering lichen, scraping oak bark, and [unclear occupational term], and similar things, each in its season.	Myfi a gefais fy magu yng nghanol tylodi mawr. Cyflog y llafurwr cyffredin fyddai cyflog fy Nhad, yr hyn am lawer o flynyddoedd oedd o swllt i swllt a chwecheinio yn y dydd, ac i fwyd ei hun, yr hyn yn fynych fyddai yn rhy brin i gael bara i'r teulu. Fy ngorchwylion hyd nes oeddwn tua unarddeg oeddynt [unclear: cardota fel gyrru], hel cen, crafu rhisgl derw a [unclear: gorcio] cyffelyb; pob peth yn ei dymor.
I was very ill with ague when I was between ten and eleven, and soon after recovering I went to the quarry with my father and my brother Robert at Festiniog. I continued the work of dressing slate under many disadvantages until I was fifteen or sixteen. At that time I went to a place called Cae, next to the Cwmstradlyn valley, to work for a man named William Hughes. I remained there about a year and a half, then returned to the quarry; and from then until now I have followed one branch or another of quarry work.	Bum yn glaf iawn o gryd pan oeddwn o ddeg i unarddeg, ac yn fuan wedi gwella aethum i'r chwarel gyda fy Nhad a'm brawd Robert i Festiniog. Dilynais y gorchwyl o drin llechau dan lawer o anfanteision hyd nes oeddwn bymtheg oed, neu un ar bymtheg. Aethum y pryd hwn i le o'r enw Cae, nesaf at ddyffryn Cwmstradlyn, i wasanaethu gwr o'r enw William Hughes. Yno y bum tua blwyddyn a hanner, yna y dychwelais i'r chwarel; ac o hynny hyd yn awr, dilynais y naill gangen neu'r llall o orchwylion y chwareli.
No one considered [unclear: that I needed day school], and I received very little of it. My parents sent me to the Calvinistic Methodist Sunday school, where I began to read Welsh. My inclination was toward the Baptists, and consequently I was [unclear: resistant] to attending their schools; and the Baptists did not [unclear: maintain] a school, because they considered [unclear: teaching] a sin.	Ni feddyliodd neb am [unclear: angen ysgol ddyddiol arnaf], ac ni chefais fawr o hynny. Byddai fy Rhieni yn fy anfon i ysgol Sul y Methodistiaid Calfinaidd, lle y dechreuais ddarllen Cymraeg. Tueddai fy meddwl at y Bedyddwyr, ac o ganlyniad byddwn [unclear: yn wrthwynebus] wrth fynd i'w hysgolion; ac ni fyddai y Bedyddwyr [unclear: yn cynnal] ysgol, gan eu bod hwy yn meddwl mai pechod [unclear: oedd dysgu].
As a boy I greatly desired to be a poet. [Unclear: when I was about eighteen] I had an opportunity to see [unclear: poetic meter]. At that time I was lodging at [continues on PDF page 71].	Pan yn fachgen oedd arnaf awydd mawr i fod yn fardd. [unclear: Pan oeddwn oddeutu deunaw oed] cefais gyfleustra i weled mesur barddoniaeth. Yr oeddwn ar y pryd hwn yn lletya yn [continues on PDF page 71].

Editorial note: Page 70 continues the closing Roberts/Humphrey family notice from page 69. The explicit sentence `Yn awr meddyliaf ychydig am hanes fy hun` marks the transition from compiled family notices to David Roberts's first-person autobiographical narrative. The autobiography then treats childhood poverty, seasonal work, illness, slate quarrying, limited schooling, Calvinistic Methodist Sunday school, Baptist sympathies, and an early desire to become a poet. RDR PDF page 4 is a confirmed close translation/paraphrase of the family notice and autobiographical transition. RDR PDF page 5 is a confirmed close translation/paraphrase with expansion and normalization of the childhood labor, illness, quarry work, schooling, religious inclination, and poetic-interest passages. RDR clarifies narrative structure and supplies smoother English, but uncertain Welsh occupational, schooling, and poetic terms have not been reconstructed from it. Coherent comparison across pages 68-72 resolves the age range during illness, the fifteen-or-sixteen quarry-work age, and the approximately year-and-a-half farm stay from the manuscript letterforms. Other occupational, schooling, Baptist, and poetic terms remain uncertain. The page contains direct first-person self-reference and continues the same compact Welsh hand and ink used on pages 68-69. Feature-by-feature comparison with the directly signed `David R Roberts` entries dated February 4 and April 6, 1858 confirms David Roberts as content author and scribe within the limits of historical manuscript-image comparison. No new heading, signature, verse, quotation, or copied-source marker occurs on page 70. The references to Calvinistic Methodist Sunday school, Baptist sympathies, Festiniog, and quarry work are candidates for later corroboration against independent Welsh branch and local records. The page mentions a desire to become a poet but does not identify a hymn, publication, or the 1852 `D. R.` hymn. The final sentence continues directly onto page 71, where the lodging and Gwilym Ystradau context is completed. Page 71 then introduces the separately dated heading `Bethania Ionawr 18 1856`.

PDF page 71

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: David Roberts | Scribe: David Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[Unclear: the grandmother] of Gwilym Ystradau the Bard, where he too was lodging. He was nearly the same age and had the same inclination toward poetry; therefore we were of some encouragement to one another. We became acquainted with the old bard [unclear: Gryffyn Davy] and received some lessons from him.	Mam-gu Gwilym Ystradau y Bardd, lle yr oedd yntau'n lletya, yn agos yr un oed ac o'r un dueddiad am Farddoniaeth; felly buom yn ychydig o gefnogaeth i'n gilydd. Daethom i gydnabyddiaeth a'r hen Fardd [unclear: Gryffyn Davy]; cawsom rai gwersi ganddo ef.
Bethania, January 18, 1856	Bethania Ionawr 18 - 1856
I was twenty-three years old when I married Catherine. We went to live at [unclear: Haffty y Moelwyn] Park, Llanfrothen, for the first year. From there we moved to Gelli Cwmstradlyn, in the same parish and on the same estate; from Gelli to [unclear place], parish of Festiniog; from [that place] to Dol y Garreg Ddu in the same parish; and from Dol y Garreg Ddu to Bethania, where we are now. We intend to emigrate to America (or Utah) between now and the beginning of next March.	Yr oeddwn i dair ar hugain oed oeddwn pan briodais Catherine. I fyw i [unclear: Haffty y Moelwyn] Park, Llanfrothen, am y flwyddyn gyntaf. Aethom oddyno i Gelli Cwmstradlyn, yn yr un plwyf ac ar yr un etifeddiaeth. O'r Gelli i [unclear: Sewynfyll], plwyf Festiniog; o [unclear: Sewynfyll] i Ddol y Garreg Ddu yn yr un plwyf; o Ddol y Garreg Ddu i Bethania, lle yr ydym yn awr. Ac yr ydym yn bwriadu ymfudo i America (neu Utah) o hyn i ddechrau Mawrth nesaf.
I was brought to faith in the Gospel by Robert Evans of Glan Conwy and was baptized by him in the River Pandy near Gelli Cwmstradlyn on May 24, 1846. I was confirmed by Abel Evans, and soon received the Holy Priesthood. The important duty of preaching the everlasting Gospel in the fulness of its blessings was placed upon my shoulders. A branch of the Church of Jesus Christ called the Festiniog Branch was entrusted to my care. I had the privilege of lodging many servants of Christ in my house and assisting them with clothing and money to build the Kingdom of Jesus Christ my Lord.	Myfi a genhedlwyd i ffydd yr Efengyl gan Robert Evans, Glan Conwy, ac a fedyddiwyd ganddo yn afon y Pandy gerllaw Gelli Cwmstradlyn, ar y 24 dydd o Fis Mai yn y flwyddyn 1846. Ac a gadarnhawyd gan Abel Evans. Ac yn fuan derbyniais yr Offeiriadaeth Santaidd. Gosodwyd ar fy ysgwyddau y ddyledswydd bwysig o bregethu yr Efengyl dragwyddol yng nghyflawnder ei bendithion. Ac ymddriedwyd yn fy ngofal Gangen o Eglwys Iesu Grist a elwir Cangen Festiniog. Cefais y fraint i letya yn fy nhylawer o weision Crist, a'u cynorthwyo gyda dillad ac arian i adeiladu Teyrnas Iesu Grist fy Arglwydd.
My wife Chathreina was baptized by David Peters near Rhydfudr, Festiniog, on August 22, 1846.	Chathreina fy ngwraig a fedyddiwyd gan David Peters ger y Rhydfudr, Festiniog, Awst 22 - 1846.
Our children were baptized by me: Thomas, September 30, 1849; Daniel was baptized September 17, 1850, at eight years old; and Ann was baptized December 28, 1852, at eight years old. [Continues on PDF page 72.]	Ein plant a fedyddiwyd gennyf. Thomas, Medi 30 - 1849. Daniel a fedyddiwyd Medi 17 - 1850 yn ei wyth mlwydd oed. Ann a fedyddiwyd Rhagfyr 28 - 1852 yn ei hawyth mlwydd oed. [Continues on PDF page 72.]

Editorial note: The opening paragraph completes the sentence begun on page 70. David was lodging with the probable grandmother of `Gwilym Ystradau y Bardd`; the two young men shared an inclination toward poetry, encouraged one another, and received lessons from an older bard whose name remains uncertain. This is evidence of bardic instruction, but it does not identify a hymn, publication, or connection to the 1852 hymn attributed to `D. R.`. The heading `Bethania Ionawr 18 - 1856` begins a distinct dated autobiographical entry. In this manuscript it functions as a residence/place-and-date heading: David says that he and his household are then living at Bethania and plan to emigrate to America or Utah. The manuscript does not independently establish whether `Bethania` denotes a house, chapel, meetinghouse, or broader locality, so no narrower identification is imposed. The dated entry records household moves, conversion and baptism, confirmation, receipt of priesthood, preaching responsibility, care of the Festiniog Branch, support for traveling church servants, and family baptisms. It supplies direct first-person evidence for David's leadership of the Festiniog Branch. The baptism date of May 24, 1846 is present in the Welsh manuscript itself and is therefore transcribed independently of the external Ffestiniog membership-register lead. RDR PDF page 5 is a confirmed close translation/paraphrase with normalization of the poetic continuation, marriage age, and residence sequence. RDR PDF page 6 is a confirmed close translation/paraphrase with expansion and normalization of the emigration plan, conversion, baptism, priesthood, branch leadership, hospitality, and family-baptism sequence. RDR helped establish syntax and event order, but the uncertain bard name and two residence forms were not forced from its English. Coherent comparison across pages 68-72 confirms the repeated `oeddwn` in the marriage-age sentence and improves the first residence candidate from `Haffty y Ty Mawr` to `[unclear: Haffty y Moelwyn] Park`. The older bard's name and the second residence remain unresolved. The same compact Welsh hand and ink continue from pages 68-70. First-person self-reference, the contemporaneous 1856 heading, autobiographical continuity, and comparison with the directly signed `David R Roberts` entries dated February 4 and April 6, 1858 confirm David Roberts as content author and scribe within the limits of historical manuscript-image comparison. Page 71 continues directly onto page 72 with the children's baptism list. Page 72 then develops into a dense multigenerational family register in the same hand.

PDF page 72 Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: David Roberts | Scribe: David Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: reviewed

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Elizabeth was baptized April 9, 1855.	Elizabeth a fedyddiwyd Ebrill 9 - 1855.
Robert has not been baptized, although he believes the Gospel. Jane has not been baptized because she is under age.	Y mae Robert heb ei fedyddio er ei fod yn credu yr Efengyl. Ac y mae Jane heb ei fedyddio oherwydd ei bod o dan oedran.
My wife was born at Creua Mawr, Llanfrothen. Her father, as mentioned above, was Thomas Richards; her mother was Ann Morris. Her father was raised with his grandmother at Creua. His father was Richard Thomas and his mother was Elizabeth. His grandfather and grandmother were Thomas Williams and Chathreina uch Richard.	Ganwyd fy Ngwraig yn y Creua Mawr, Llanfrothen. Enw ei Thad, fel y soniwyd uchod, Thomas Richards; enw ei mam, Ann Morris. Ei Thad a fagwyd gyda ei nain yn y Creua. Enw ei dad oedd Richard Thomas; enw ei fam oedd Elizabeth. Enwau ei daid a'i nain oedd Thomas Williams a Chathreina uch Richard.
The names of the children of Richard and Elizabeth Thomas were as follows: Thomas, Chathreina, Robert, and Jane Richards.	Enwau plant Richard ac Elizabeth Thomas fel y canlyn: Thomas, Chathreina, Robert a Jane Richards.
The names of the children of Thomas Richards and Ann Morris were as follows: Jane, Chathreina, and Richard Thomas.	Enwau plant Thomas Richards ac Ann Morris fel y canlyn: Jane, Chathreina a Richard Thomas.
Ann Morris, wife of Thomas Richards, was born at Llwyn yr Hwch, Llanfrothen. Her father was Rowland Morris and her mother was Jane Parry. The names of the children of Rowland and Jane Parry were as follows: Rowland, Janet, Ann, Elinor, and Henry Morris.	Ann Morris, gwraig Thomas Richards, a anwyd yn Llwyn yr Hwch, Llanfrothen. Enw ei Thad Rowland Morris; enw ei mam oedd Jane Parry. Enwau plant Rowland a Jane Parry fel y canlyn: Rowland, Janet, Ann, Elinor, Henry Morris.
The names of my father and mother are Robert Roberts and Elizabeth Edwards. They were married at Beddgelert on February 3, 1806. My father was born at Cae Glas, Clynog, in Caernarfonshire on January 18, 1775. Nine children were born to his parents, as follows: Salmon, Margred, Robert (my father), Catherine, Jane, Ann, Elinor, Elizabeth, and William Roberts. My grandfather was born at Felin Faesog, Clynog.	Enwau fy Nhad a mam ydynt Robert Roberts ac Elizabeth Edwards. Hwy a briodwyd yn Beddgelert yn y flwyddyn 1806, y 3 dydd o Chwefror. Ganwyd fy Nhad mewn Cae Glas, Clynog, yn Sir Gaernarfon yn y flwyddyn 1775, ar y 18 dydd o Ionawr. Ganwyd i'w rieni naw o blant fel y canlyn: Salmon, Margred, Robert (fy Nhad), Catherine, Jane, Ann, Elinor, Elizabeth a William Roberts. Fy nhaid a anwyd yn Felin Faesog, Clynog.

Editorial note: Page 72 begins by completing the children's baptism sequence from page 71: Elizabeth's baptism is dated April 9, 1855; Robert is described as believing the Gospel but not baptized; and Jane is described as unbaptized because she is under age. No officiator or confirmation is written in this continuation. The remainder is a compact first-person family register. Its explicit groups are: Chathreina's birth, parents, and paternal grandparents; the children of Richard and Elizabeth Thomas; the children of Thomas Richards and Ann Morris; Ann Morris's parents and siblings; and David's parents, their marriage, his father's birth and siblings, and his grandfather's birthplace. Relationships are translated only where the Welsh grammar states them; adjacency has not been used to create additional kinship. The register appears to be David Roberts's retrospective family compilation rather than a visibly copied document. It remains in the same compact Welsh hand and ink used on pages 68-71, with first-person forms `fy Ngwraig`, `fy Nhad`, and `fy nhaid`. Feature-by-feature comparison with the directly signed `David R Roberts` entries dated February 4 and April 6, 1858 confirms David Roberts as content author and scribe within the limits of historical manuscript-image comparison. RDR PDF page 6 is a confirmed close translation/paraphrase with normalization of the baptism continuation and the Richards/Morris register through Jane Parry. RDR PDF page 7 is a confirmed close translation/paraphrase with normalization of the Parry/Morris children, David's parents, their marriage, the paternal birth and sibling list, and Felin Faesog. The Welsh manuscript itself supports the dates and name order transcribed here; RDR has not been used to reconstruct an unreadable relationship. No `Robert Price` or Price/Roberts surname transition appears on page 72. The page records Robert Roberts as David's father and leaves the grandfather unnamed, giving only his birthplace. Later ancestry disputes therefore should not be projected into this transcription. Page 72 ends cleanly with `Fy nhaid a anwyd yn Felin Faesog, Clynog.` PDF page 73 begins a clearly separate English record dated April 17, 1886, in a later hand and includes explicit Robert D. Roberts material. No unfinished Welsh sentence or family group is visible at the boundary, and page 73 has not been transcribed in this pass. No hymn, poetry, composition, or publication reference appears on page 72.

PDF page 73

Family history and journal

Source: English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts; David R. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts; David R. Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Original English transcription	Welsh source
Entry 1: Elizabeth Roberts genealogy	No separate Welsh source text is present on this page.
Logan City April 17 1886
Genealogy of Elizabeth Roberts
Her parents names are David R Roberts and Catherine Thomas she was born [unclear: November 13] in the year 1846 in Cwm y Gelli Parish of Festiniog County of Merioneth North Wales she has been baptised by her father David R Roberts and very likely confirmed by the same April 9 the year 1855.
June 13 the year 1869 she was married by Thomas [unclear: Landon] in her Mothers house to a young man by the name of Taliesin Hughes.
Robert D Roberts
Entry 2: David R Roberts autobiography
[unclear: Gelli, Davis] Farmington Feb 4th 1858.
Genealogy of David R Roberts. My native land is North Wales my Father was born in Clynog Caernarvonshire and my Mother both in Caernarvon Shire [unclear: she was born in Beddgelert]. I was born in a house called [unclear: Bron y Garth] in a place named [unclear: Nantmor] in Merioneth Shire but as I have said reside with Caernarvon since long time. I was born on the sixth of April 1814 and Married in the year 1837 in the Parish of Llanfrothen Merionethshire North Wales and I was Baptised May 24th in 1846 by Robert Evans Glan Conwy and in June 21st being Confirmed by Abel Evans March in Priest and soon after that to be an Elder and emigrated from the old country on the 13th of April in the 1856 and arrived the Valley on the 2nd Oct 1856.
David R Roberts

Editorial note: Page 73 does not continue page 72. It contains two distinct English entries in different hands and from different writing moments. The upper entry is dated April 17, 1886, concerns Elizabeth Roberts, and is explicitly signed `Robert D Roberts`. Robert D. Roberts is therefore the confirmed content author and scribe of that entry. The account is retrospective and records events from 1846, 1855, and 1869. The lower entry is dated February 4, 1858, is written in the first person as a genealogy/autobiography of David R Roberts, and is explicitly signed `David R Roberts`. David R. Roberts is therefore the confirmed content author and scribe of that entry. Its date precedes David Roberts's death on November 4, 1858. The hand differs from the upper Robert D. Roberts entry and, together with the signed April 6, 1858 entries on page 76 and the self-identified page-74 English entries, provides the direct comparison baseline that confirms the David Roberts hand on pages 68-72 within the limits of historical manuscript-image comparison. The lower entry supplies an independent manuscript witness for April 6, 1814 as David Roberts's birth date. This agrees with the day visible in Welsh on page 68 and conflicts with the April 14 date in the later RDR historical English account; the disagreement is preserved rather than harmonized. The RDR journal contains related family-history material, but no passage located in the completed transcription is a close page-level duplicate of these two entries. RDR page 23 independently records Robert D. Roberts's April 4, 1858 baptism by his father David R. Roberts; that is contextual corroboration, not a parallel for the events transcribed here.

PDF page 74

Family history and journal

Source: English and Welsh | Content author: David R Roberts; unidentified Roberts-family hand | Scribe: David R Roberts; unidentified Roberts-family hand | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	English and Welsh source transcription
English entries 1-2	### English entry 1: Genealogy of Jane D Roberts
[Not applicable: these manuscript entries are in English. Historical spelling, grammar, capitalization, and uncertainty are preserved in the source transcription above.]	Genealogy of Jane D Roberts
Welsh entry 3	Her parents names are David R Roberts and Catherine Thomas she has been born Jan 14th in the year 1856 in Llewyn y Gelli Parish of Festiniog in county of Merioneth North Wales She has been baptised by Daniel A Miller and confirmed by Hiram Pratt and Samuel Hand from Farmington Feb 28th 1858
In the year 1864	[unclear: Celli's Barard] Farmington April 5th 1858
On August 12, planting ten apple trees, two plum trees, and one [unclear: plum tree / fruit tree].	### English entry 2: Genealogy of Robert D Roberts
In the year 1865	Genealogy of Robert D Roberts
On April 18, planting [unclear: two distant trees].	His parents names are David R Roberts and Catherine Thomas he was born September 11 1837 in [unclear: Lloffy y Hâf Park] Parish of Llanfrothen County of Merioneth North Wales He has been baptised by me (David R Roberts) and confirmed by the same on the waters edge Farmington April 4th 1858
On April 20, planting [unclear: apple trees] and aspens.	### Welsh entry 3: planting register
On the 22nd, planting [unclear: twenty-one] apple trees, in the year 1865.	Yn y flwyddyn 1864
	Yn 12fed o Awst yn planu deg o goed fala a dau o eirin ac un [unclear: eirinwydd]
	Yn y flwyddyn 1865
	Y 18fed o Ebrill yn planu [unclear: dau o goed pella]
	Ebrill yr 20fed yn planu [unclear: coedau fala] ac Aspinod.
	yr 22fed yn planu [unclear: un ar hugain] o goed fala y flwyddyn 1865

Editorial note: Page 74 contains three distinct textual blocks and does not continue either signed entry on page 73. The first two blocks are English family-genealogy records dated within their text to January 14, 1856, February 28, 1858, April 5, 1858, September 11, 1837, and April 4, 1858. Their hand, ink, slant, line spacing, capital forms, numeral forms, repeated `Genealogy` heading, and first-person phrase `by me (David R Roberts)` continue the hand of the signed February 4, 1858 David R Roberts entry on page 73. David R Roberts is therefore the confirmed content author and scribe of these two blocks by strong handwriting continuity plus explicit self-identification. They are contemporaneous family records rather than continuations of the page-73 sentences. The lower block changes to Welsh, darker ink, heavier pressure, larger spacing, and a less uniform slant. It is a farm/planting register beginning in 1864 and ending cleanly on page 74 with the April 22, 1865 planting line; page 75 begins a separate livestock-loss entry. Because it records post-November 4, 1858 events, it cannot have been newly written by David Roberts. Its hand does not match the signed David R Roberts sample and is not sufficiently close to the dense Robert D. Roberts narrative hand on page 77 for attribution. Its content author and scribe remain an unidentified Roberts-family hand, attribution uncertain. RDR page 23 is a confirmed same-event parallel for Robert D Roberts's April 4, 1858 baptism at Farmington by his father David R Roberts and confirmation at the water's edge. No clear RDR parallel was located for Jane D Roberts's record or the planting register. RDR was not used to reconstruct uncertain manuscript names, place forms, or Welsh planting terminology. The signed February 4, 1858 page-73 entry and the self-identified English entries on this page form part of the direct David R Roberts comparison baseline. Together with the signed April 6, 1858 entries on page 76, their recurring letterforms, numerals, spacing, slant, and layout habits confirm the David Roberts scribal attribution of pages 68-72 within the limits of historical manuscript-image comparison.

PDF page 75

Family history and journal

Source: Welsh | Content author: Unidentified Roberts-family hand | Scribe: Unidentified Roberts-family hand | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Entry 1: livestock losses, 1865	### Entry 1: livestock losses, 1865
1865, on the seventh of April, two cows died,	1865 y Seithfed o Ebrill dwy fuwch yn marw
and one the day before [unclear: three years ...].	ac un y dydd o'r blaen [unclear: tair mlwyddian dlwy ar nod]
Entry 2: death of the old cow, 1875	### Entry 2: death of the old cow, 1875
1875, the old cow died of old age at nineteen years old, January 24.	1875 yr hen fuwch yn marw o henaint yn 19 oed Ionawr 24

Editorial note: Page 75 contains two separate Welsh livestock-loss entries. Contrary to the preliminary continuity hypothesis, page 74's planting register ends cleanly with its April 22, 1865 planting line; page 75 begins a new livestock entry dated April 7, 1865. The first entry records two cows dying on April 7 and another on the preceding day. Its final age/count phrase remains unclear and has not been expanded from context. The second entry is separately dated January 24, 1875 and records an old cow dying of old age at nineteen years. It is a brief farm-diary notice, not an accounting transaction, purchase, sale, or family-history entry. Both entries share the darker ink, heavy pressure, larger line height, broad spacing, numeral construction, and less uniform slant of page 74's lower Welsh farm register. They are probably by the same unidentified Roberts-family content author and scribe. They do not match the confirmed signed David R Roberts hand on page 73 and the English part of page 74, and their 1865/1875 writing dates postdate David Roberts's death. They are also not sufficiently close to the dense Robert D Roberts narrative hand on pages 77 onward for attribution. Neither entry continues onto page 76. Page 76 begins a new English source block dated April 6, 1858, signed David R Roberts, and later changes to a Welsh narrative block. No clear RDR parallel was found for either livestock entry. RDR was not used to reconstruct the unresolved first-entry phrase.

PDF page 76

Family history and journal

Source: English and Welsh | Content author: David R Roberts; Robert D Roberts | Scribe: David R Roberts; Robert D Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	English and Welsh source transcription
English entries 1-2	### English entry 1: William Richards account
[Not applicable: these two manuscript entries are in English. Historical spelling, grammar, capitalization, and uncertainty are preserved in the source transcription above.]	[unclear: Cellis Barard] Farmington April 6th 1858
Welsh entry 3	David R Roberts
We arrived on the second day of October. This journey was very hard because we did not have half enough food, and it was hard work pulling the handcart. We stayed in this place for a few days. My father and the family went to a place called Farmington, eighteen miles to the north. [Unclear: Then I agreed] to go to Ogden with Erastus Bingham, twenty-two miles farther, and we were there for four months. I returned to my father. The following summer I went to Fort Elder, to Capt. Evans, who had married my uncle Daniel's wife, and [unclear: I worked there] that summer [unclear: afterward, Millcreek in Utah ...].	To William Richards
	19 lb Bushel of fresh Meat
	I David R Roberts promise to pay the above sum to William Richards any time when he pleas to call for if circumstances will possible permit
	David R Roberts
	### English entry 2: Will Smith account
	[unclear: Cellis Barard] Farmington April 6th 1858
	David R Roberts
	To Will Smith
	Balance of account [unclear: 836 cent]
	I David R Roberts promise to pay the above sum to Will Smith any time when he pleas to call for it if circumstances will possible permit
	David R Roberts
	### Welsh entry 3: migration and early Utah residence

	Cyrhaeddasom ar y 2a dydd, Hydref bu y daith hon yn galed iawn o herwydd nad oedd gennym hanner digon o fwyd a gwaith caled i dynu y llaw trolïo. Darfuom aros yn y lle hwn am rhai dyddiau aeth fy nhad a'r teulu i le a elwir Farmington 18 milldir i'r gogledd o [unclear: chwedyn cytunais innau] i fynd i Ogden hefo Erastus Bingham 22 yn mhellach a buom yno am bedwar mis ac euthum yn ôl at fy nhad yr haf ganlynol euthum i le Fort Elder at Capt Evans yr hwn oedd wedi priodi gwraig fy ewythr Daniel a [unclear: bûm yno mewn gwaith] yr haf hwn [unclear: yn ôl Millcreek yn Utah ...]
--	---

Editorial note: Page 76 contains three distinct blocks and does not continue page 75. The first two blocks are separate English account/debt acknowledgments dated April 6, 1858, one addressed to William Richards and one to Will Smith. Each contains first-person self-identification and ends with the exact signature `David R Roberts`; that signature appears twice as a governing signature, in addition to name occurrences in the headings and promises. The hand matches the signed February 4, 1858 entry on page 73 and the English genealogy records on page 74 in its capital D and R, slant, spacing, terminal strokes, numeral forms, and signature construction. David R Roberts is the confirmed content author and scribe of both contemporaneous English blocks. No clear RDR parallel was found for either account. The source changes from English to Welsh immediately after the second `David R Roberts` signature. The lower Welsh block is in a different, lighter and more compressed hand matching the Robert D Roberts narrative on page 77 rather than the heavy page 74-75 farm-register hand. It is a first-person retrospective account of the October 2, 1856 arrival and early residence/work in Farmington, Ogden, and Fort Elder. Robert D Roberts is the probable content author and scribe, based on handwriting continuity, first-person family perspective, and the matching signed/datable sequence beginning on page 77. The Welsh block ends unfinished near a reference to Millcreek. Page 77 does not continue its final sentence: it begins independently with `Logan City / January 2, 1861` and restarts the emigration history from departure in Wales. Page 76 is therefore best understood as a rough or partial retrospective version, while page 77 begins a fresh, fuller account. No page-77 correction is required. RDR page 7 is a confirmed close-translation/later-copy parallel for the Welsh migration block. It preserves the same sequence: October 2 arrival in Salt Lake City, the hard handcart journey and inadequate food, the family's move to Farmington, Robert's agreement with Erastus Bingham and four months in Ogden, and the following summer with Capt. Evans at Fort Elder. RDR is smoother and more explicit; it was not used to fill the damaged ending or force uncertain Welsh letterforms. The two signed English entries provide directly attributable David R Roberts handwriting samples. Their agreement with the signed page-73 sample and the self-identified page-74 English entries confirms the David Roberts scribal attribution of pages 68-72 within the limits of historical manuscript-image comparison.

PDF page 77

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Logan City, January 2, 1861.	Logan City January 2, 1861
I will give a little of our history from the old country up to the present, as correctly as my memory allows. We left Bethania, Ffestiniog, on April 14, 1856, and reached Liverpool. On the nineteenth of the same month we went aboard the ship S. Curling, which began its journey across the Atlantic the following day. The voyage was very rough, with the sea rising greatly. We reached the American continent on May 24, [unclear in Welsh] Boston. After a day or two we took the railroad to Iowa City, where we remained for nearly three weeks. From there we began our journey across the plains with handcars to Utah.	Rhoddaf ychydig o ein hanes o'r hen wlad hyd Gymru hyd yn awr, mor gywir ac y mae fy nghof yn gallu. Darfu ni ymadael o Festiniog Bethania yn flwyddyn 1856, a o Ebrill 14 a chyrhaeddasom Liverpool ac ar y 19 o'r un mis aethom i'r llong S. Curling, yr hon oedd yn cychwyn ei thaith dros Môr yr Iwerydd, drannoeth bu y daith hon yn lled fawr, y môr yn codi iawn gyffelybasom gyfandir America, ar y 24 o Mai. [unclear: niw y lle] cyntaf [unclear: darfu ni] Boston. yn [unclear: rhyw] ddiwrnod neu ddau darfu ni gymeryd Cerbydres, i deithio oddiyno i Iowa-City, buom yma am yn agos i dair wythnos o amser, ar lle hyn y cychwynom gymeryd ein daith dros y gwastadedd ar handcart hefo y llaw trocha i Utah.
We stayed for a few days in Salt Lake City after arriving on October 2. The journey was very hard because we did not have half enough food, and pulling the handcart was hard. After several days my father and the [unclear in Welsh] went to Farmington, eighteen miles north of Salt Lake City. I then went twenty-two miles farther to Ogden with Erastus Bingham and remained there for four [unclear in Welsh] , after which I returned to my father, my mother, my brothers, and my sisters.	Darfu ni aros ychydig y lle hwn sef Dinas y Llyn Halen ar y 2 dydd o Hydref; bu y daith hon yn galed iawn o herwydd nad oedd gennym hanner digon o fwyd a [unclear: phriodoldeb] caled i dynu y llaw troli. Darfu ni aros yma yma am rhai dyddiau, aeth fy nhad a'r [unclear: teulu] i le a elwir Farmington 18 milldir i'r gogledd o chwedyn aethum i ffwrdd i Ogden hefo Erastus Bingham 22 [unclear: yn] mhellach a buom yno am bedwar [unclear: mis] ac aethum yn ol at fy nhad, fy mam, fy mrodyr a'm chwiorydd.

Editorial note: First direct visual transcription and modern translation completed. Several readings remain uncertain and are marked rather than supplied from the English witness. The passage corresponds to RDR PDF page 7 with confirmed confidence. RDR is a close historical translation in overall event order, but it also paraphrases and abridges the Welsh. It supplies smoother relationship and travel wording, expands the handcart hardship, and continues the final sentence onto its next page. It was used as a concordance only, not as the base text. The page is dated January 2, 1861, after David Roberts's death on November 4, 1858. Robert D. Roberts is the probable content author and scribe based on the first-person transition, the matching RDR passage, handwriting continuity, and explicit R. D. Roberts signatures in the continuing sequence. The date alone is not treated as proof of scribal identity.

PDF page 78

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[Continuation from PDF page 77]	[continuation from PDF page 77]
I returned from the journey, and my father spent the whole time watching with a man because of his feet, since his boots were too small. Thomas worked with [unclear name: James Lathad] and received ten bushels of wheat and some clothing for his work. Daniel stayed with Lot Smith and received [unclear in Welsh] for his work. Ann and Elizabeth were in service, and Jane was at home.	Dychwelais y daith a bu fy nhad ar hyd yr amser yn ei wylied hefo rhyw ddyn ar herwydd ei draed o herwydd fod ei esgidiau yn rhy fach. Ni thalodd Thomas yn gweithio hefo [unclear: James Lathad] a chafodd 10 bus. o wenith am ei waith ac ychydig o ddillad. Daniel oedd yn aros hefo Lot Smith a chafodd [unclear: dreisiad] am ei waith. Ann ac Elizabeth oedd yn gwasanaethu a Jane gartref. Yn y flwyddyn 1858 darfu ymfudo i'r Deau, gyda y Saint; gawson fenthyg bwyd gan William Richard, yr hwn a dalwyd iddo yn y flwyddyn 1859. Buom yn Neuau am yn agos i ddau fis a daethom yn ol a darfu ennill ychydig o wenith am weithio. Aeth fy nhad a minna i'r Canyons i weitho shingles. Ym mhen rhyw fis gafaelwyd rhai afiechyd fy Mam a Thomas.
In 1858 we moved south with the Saints. We borrowed food from William Richard, which was repaid to him in 1859. We were in the South for nearly two months, then returned and earned a little wheat by working. My father and I went to the canyons to make shingles. After about a month my mother and Thomas were seized by an illness. My father had to remain home to watch over them, and I went to the soldiers' camp to seek work, but I did not prosper and returned. My mother and brother were no better. They began to improve after a week, but my father, Daniel, Ann, and Jane then took their place; the illness did not affect Elizabeth.	Yr oedd ar fy nhad aros gartref i'w gwylied ac euthum mi i wersyll y milwyr i edrych am waith ond ni lwyddais a dychwelais yn ol ac nid oedd fy Mam na'm brawd ddim gwell. Dechreuasant wella ym mhen yr wythnos, ond cymerodd fy nhad eu lle, a Daniel ac Ann a Jane; nid ni chyffyrddodd ag Elizabeth. Y glefyd hwn a derfynodd einioes fy nhad ar y ddaear hon a darfum ni ei gladdu ym mynwent Farmington. Yr amser y marwodd fy nhad oedd yn flwyddyn 1858. A chymerais i fy ngwely ar ol dod yn ol o'i angladd ac ni fuom yn alluog i godi heb gymorth am yn agos i dri mis. Yn y gwanwyn y mis Ebrill [continues on PDF page 79]
This disease ended my father's life on this earth. We buried him in the Farmington cemetery. My father died in 1858. After returning from his funeral I took to my bed and was unable to rise without help for nearly three months. In the spring, in the month of April...
[Continues on PDF page 79.]

Editorial note: First direct visual transcription and modern translation completed. Uncertain readings remain marked rather than supplied from RDR. The passage corresponds to RDR PDF pages 7-9 with confirmed confidence. RDR is primarily a close translation and paraphrase, with compression of the Welsh syntax and some expanded explanations. The historical English supplies clearer event boundaries but does not resolve the uncertain employer surname or every Welsh noun. Robert D. Roberts is the probable content author and scribe based on first-person continuity from page 77, the post-1858 entry date, matching RDR material, handwriting continuity, and explicit R. D. Roberts signatures in the continuing sequence.

PDF page 79

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[Continuation from PDF page 78]	[continuation from PDF page 78]
I set out for the gold mines, thinking that I could earn money to pay our debt, but I did not go there. I remained at Fort Bridger to work for the soldiers and build some [unclear in Welsh]. I then returned to my mother, my brothers, and my sisters, and nearly all our debt was paid. My brother had earned some wheat.	Cymerais fy nhaith i'r mines aur, gan feddwl ennill arian i dalu ein dyled ond nid euthum yno. Arosais yn Fort Bridger i weithio i'r milwyr ac adeiladu rhai [unclear: dai pridd] i'r rhai a dychwelais yn ol at fy mam a'm brodyr a'm chwiorydd a thalwyd ein dyled yn agos i gyd. Mae'm brawd fy [unclear: hun] wedi ennill beth gwenith. Yn niwedd Hydref cychwynais fy nhaith i chwilio am dir i'w lafurio fel y gallom godi ein bara a thatoes. Yn Cache Valley mi arhosais y lle hwn, [unclear: ychydig] yn Logan cyfair, din yr y lle hwn a buom yn gweithio yma am ychydig amser. Daeth fy mrawd Thomas ar fy ol a chafodd ef [unclear: wneyd] cytundeb efo dyn o'r enw Shepherd yr hwn oedd i gael [unclear: tywys] fy mrawd gyda ac ef a chawsom [unclear:
At the end of October I set out to look for land that could be cultivated so that we could raise our own bread and potatoes. I stayed in Cache Valley, [unclear in Welsh] at Logan, and worked there for a short time. My brother Thomas came after me and made an agreement with a man named Shepherd. [The following travel and employment wording is unclear in Welsh.]	ddychwelyd] yn ol a gyrrodd i geisio y mynwent.
Thomas and I returned home after February in the year 1860. We had to remain there because our animals were weak and we had little fodder for them. At the end of March we began our journey again. Daniel remained in Farmington to work and came after us shortly afterward. We raised only a small crop: 59 bushels of wheat, 4 bushels of barley, 15 bushels [unclear crop], 10 bushels of potatoes, and a few other things. We have prospered well from the year 1859 until now [continues on PDF page 80].	Thomas a finna y gaeaf hwn, ar ol mis Chwefror yn y flwyddyn 1860, dychwelasom adref mi arhosodd y daith yma i ni [unclear: hyd] ddim i roi aros yma oherwydd fod ein anifeiliaid yn rwan. Nid oedd gennym fawr o [unclear: borthiant] i'w bwyta. Ym niwedd mis Mawrth cychwynasom ein daith unwaith eto ar ein daith. Arosodd Daniel yn Farmington i weithio a daeth ar ein hol yn mhen ychydig. Ni [unclear: chodwyd] godi fawr o gnwd gwenith, 59 bus., barley 4 bus., gwenith 15 bus., potatoes 10 bus., ac ychydig o bethau eraill. Yr ydym wedi llwyddo yn [continues on PDF page 80: dda ar flwyddyn 1859, hyd yn awr]

Editorial note: First direct visual transcription and modern translation completed. Several words in the employment, return journey, and crop list remain uncertain. The passage corresponds to RDR PDF page 9 with confirmed confidence and is a close historical translation with paraphrase and abridgment. RDR gives a clearer sequence for Shepherd, the sheep-driving work, and the return to Cache Valley, but those details have not been forced into uncertain Welsh letterforms. RDR also differs in the crop quantities and labels. The continuation on Welsh PDF page 80 clearly gives the year as 1859, while RDR gives 1856; the Welsh reading is preserved independently. Robert D. Roberts is the probable content author and scribe based on the same first-person and handwriting continuity as pages 77-78, reinforced by the matching RDR narrative and nearby signatures.

PDF page 80 Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts for the first two entries; final entry uncertain | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[Continuation from PDF page 79]	[continuation from PDF page 79]
...well from the year 1859 until now. It was not easy for us to raise much of a crop because we had to fence and enclose the land. We now have a house with three rooms, and we live happily.	dda ar flwyddyn 1859, hyd yn awr nid oedd yn hawdd i ni godi llawer o gnwd oherwydd fod raid i ni ffensio a chau y dir. Mae gyda ni dy a thair ystafell, yn awr ac yr ydym yn byw yn hapus.
January 9, 1861.	Ionawr 9, 1861.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
Logan City, January 29, 1865	Logan City Ionawr 29 1865
On the eighth of this month (that is, January), my mother, Thomas, and I set out for Salt Lake City to be washed, anointed, and blessed in the house of the Lord.	Ar yr wythfed o'r mis hwn (sef Ionawr) y darfu i fy mam a Thomas a minna gychwyn i Ddinas y Llyn Halen i cael ein golchi an heneinio an bendithio yn nhŷ yr Arglwydd.
We reached the city on the tenth. On the thirteenth we went through the House and were ordained Elders: Thomas by Peter Maughan and I by [crossed out: Peter Sprague; interlined: James L. Sprague]. My mother and I went through the House, and she was sealed to my father by Wilford Woodruff.	Darfu ni gyrraedd y Ddinas ar y ddegfed. Ar y trydydd ar ddeg aethom dros y Ty a chawsom ein horddinio yn Henuriaid; Thomas gan Peter Maughan a minna gan [crossed out: Peter Sprague; interlined: James L. Sprague]. Aethum i a fy mam drwy y Ty a chafodd ei selio i fy nhad, gan Wilford Woodruff.
The following day we turned homeward and reached home on the sixteenth in good health. Although the weather was very cold, we found everything well at home.	Drannoeth y darfum droi yn ol a chyrhaedd gartref ar yr unfed ar bymtheg mewn iechyd, er fod y tywydd yn oer iawn, a chawsom pob peth yn dda gartref.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
Logan City, April 2, 1865	Logan City Ebrill 2il 1865
On March twenty-second, 1865, Ann, one of our sisters and a daughter of our father and mother, was united in marriage by Bishop Peter Maughan in this house, namely my mother's house, with...	Ar y ddau ar hugain o Fawrth yn y flwyddyn 1865 unwyd Ann un o'n chwiorydd, merch i ein tad a'n mam, mewn briodasol gan yr Esgob Peter Maughan yn y Ty hwn, sef Ty fy mam, ac [continues on PDF page 81]
[Continues on PDF page 81.]

Editorial note: First direct visual transcription and modern translation completed. The page contains three distinct entries. The opening lines complete Welsh PDF page 79 and correspond to RDR PDF page 9 with confirmed confidence. The relationship is a close translation with paraphrase. Welsh gives 1859; RDR gives 1856. The immediate context makes the Welsh 1859 reading unequivocal as written, but does not establish which historical chronology is correct. The January 1865 temple entry corresponds to RDR PDF page 10 with confirmed confidence. It is a close translation with paraphrase and minor expansion in RDR. The Welsh heading appears to read January 29, while RDR gives January 27; the source readings remain separate. Both witnesses preserve the Peter Sprague deletion and James L. Sprague interline. The March/April 1865 marriage-family entry has no clear RDR parallel. It continues onto Welsh PDF page 81 and is not harmonized with later RDR family chronology. Its relationship wording is transcribed conservatively and remains subject to review. The hand, slant, spacing, line density, and signature forms are continuous across the page. Two explicit R. D. Roberts signatures confirm him as scribe and content author for the first two entries. The same hand probably records the final entry, but its content-author attribution remains uncertain because no parallel witness has yet been identified.

PDF page 81

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 80]	[continuation from PDF page 80]
Owen Owens, son of Owen and Elizabeth Owens, formerly of Harlech, Merionethshire. His occupation was tailor, but he is now managing Brigham P. Young's store, and he intends to take a house in Salt Lake City for the following summer.	Owen Owens mab i Owen ac Elizabeth Owens, gynt o Harlech, Sir Feirioneth. Ei alwedigaeth oedd dilledydd, ond y mae yn awr yn gymeryd gofal gwerdu Brigham P. Young, ac yn bwriadu i gymeryd ty yn y Dinas y Llyn Halen am yr haf canlynol.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
Logan City, January 23, 1867	Logan City, Ionawr 23, 1867
On the ninth of December in the year 1866, Ann, our sister, set out for Salt Lake City to be washed and anointed in the house of the Lord. She was married and sealed to a young man named William Hopkin on December 18, 1866. His father and brother were killed in a coal mine in Wales, together with several other Saints at the same time. His mother lives here in Logan, having married a man named William Davies. William Hopkin and Ann live in a house that he owns, and appear fairly harmonious and comfortable.	Ar y nawfed o Ragfyr yn y flwyddyn 1866 cychwynodd Ann, ein chwaer, i Ddinas y Llyn Halen Mawr i gael ei golchi a'i heneinio yn nhŷ yr Arglwydd. Priodwyd a seliwyd hi a bachgen o'r enw William Hopkin ar y 18fed Rhagfyr 1866. Cafodd ei dad a'i frawd eu lladd mewn gwaith glo yn Nghymru, ac amryw o Saint eraill yr un pryd. Mae ei fam ef yn byw yma yn Logan, wedi priodi un o'r enw William Davies. Mae William Hopkin ac Ann yn byw mewn ty o'i eiddo ef, ac yn edrych yn lled gytun a chysurus.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
Logan City, February 4, 1867	Logan City, Chwefror 4, 1867
On January 15 in the year 1867, Elisabeth, our second sister, was united with a young man named Taliesin Hughes by Bishop Thomas Tarbet [continues on PDF page 82]	Ar y 15fed o Ionawr yn y flwyddyn 1867 unwyd Elisabeth, ein hail chwaer, a bachgen o'r enw Taliesin Hughes, gan yr Esgob Thomas Tarbet [continues on PDF page 82]

Editorial note: - The opening paragraph completes the March/April 1865 marriage entry begun on PDF page 80. It identifies Ann's husband as Owen Owens, gives his parents as Owen and Elizabeth Owens of Harlech, Merionethshire, and ends with an explicit `R. D. Roberts` signature. No clear RDR English parallel has yet been located for this entry. - The January 23, 1867 entry has a confirmed parallel on RDR PDF page 10. RDR closely paraphrases the Welsh account of Ann's December 1866 journey, marriage and sealing to William Hopkin, the mining deaths of his father and brother, his mother's marriage to William Davies, and the couple's Logan household. RDR expands some explanatory phrasing and should not be substituted for the Welsh text. - The February 4, 1867 entry begins the account of Elisabeth's January 15 marriage to Taliesin Hughes and continues onto Welsh PDF page 82. Its opening has a confirmed parallel on RDR PDF page 10. The spelling `Elisabeth` is preserved from the Welsh manuscript rather than normalized to RDR's `Elizabeth`. - The page contains one continuous handwriting group. Two explicit `R. D. Roberts` signatures, first-person family language, and continuity with nearby signed entries support Robert D. Roberts as both scribe and content author for the completed entries. The final entry is provisionally attributed to him by handwriting and narrative continuity pending inspection of its continuation on PDF page 82. - Page 81 adds no context that resolves the page-79 Welsh `1859` versus RDR `1856` disagreement or the page-80 provisional January date versus RDR's January 27. Those source differences remain preserved.

PDF page 82 Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts; copied family Bible record by David R. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 81]	[continuation from PDF page 81]
Taliesin Hughes's mother died in the State of Illinois, America, and his father is now there, having married another woman. These children, namely Taliesin, his brother, and his sisters, were brought out by their uncle William Jones, their mother's brother. After coming to Utah Territory, to Willard in Box Elder County, he departed after some time and went back to Illinois, and brought out his sister's children, seven in number. Their father promised to come after them, but he has not yet come. Taliesin Hughes and Elizabeth, our sister, live in a house of his own, and everything appears well.	Taliesin Hughes, bu farw ei fam yn Nhalaith Illinois, America, ac yno y mae ei Dad yn awr wedi briodi gwraig arall. Ymfudodd y plant hyn, sef Taliesin a'i frawd a'i chwiorydd, gan ei hewythr, William Jones, brawd ei mam. Ef ar ol dod i Utah Territory, Box Elder County, Willard, ym mhen amser ymadawodd, ac aeth yn ol i Illinois, ac a ymfudodd blant ei chwaer, saith mewn rhifedi. A'i Tad a addawodd ddyfod ar ei hol, ond ni ddaeth hyd yn hyn. Mae Taliesin Hughes ac Elizabeth ein chwaer yn byw mewn ty o eiddo ef, a phob peth yn edrych yn dda.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
On April 14, in the year 1868, a daughter was born to Ann, our sister, and her husband William Hopkin; her name was Sarah Cathrina Hopkin.	Ar y bedwareddarddeg, 14eg, o Ebrill ganwyd merch i Ann ein chwaer, y flwyddyn (1868), a William Hopkin ei phriod; enw, Sarah Cathrina Hopkin.
I received in a letter from my uncle Edward Roberts, my father's brother, dated July [unclear: 20] , 1854, the day, month, and year when David R. Roberts, Cathrina his wife, and their children were born. It had been in the possession of David R. Roberts, where he (David), with his own hand, had entered the first record of his children.	Derbyniais mewn llythyr oddiwrth fy ewythr Edward Roberts, brawd fy nhad, dyddiedig Gorphenaf [unclear: 20fed] 1854, y dydd a'r mis a'r flwyddyn y ganwyd David R. Roberts, a Cathrina ei wraig, a'u plant, a oedd wedi bod yn meddiant David R. Roberts, lle yr oedd ef (David) a'i law ei hun wedi rhoi y cofnod cyntaf o'i blant.
David R. Roberts was born April 5, 1814.	David R. Roberts a anwyd Ebrill 5ed 1814
Cathrina, [crossed out: June] July 25, 1828.	Cathrina, [crossed out: Mehefin] Gorphenaf 25ed 1828
Their children:	Eu plant:
Robert, September 21, 1839	Robert, Medi 21, 1839
Thomas, July 6, 1840	Thomas, Gorphenaf 6, 1840
Daniel, September 8, 1842	Daniel, Medi 8, 1842
Anne, December 19, 1844	Anne, Rhagfyr 19, 1844
Elizabeth, November 15, 1846	Elizabeth, Tachwedd 15, 1846
Jane, January 11, 1850	Jane, Ionawr 11, 1850
Robert D. Roberts	Robert D. Roberts

Editorial note: - The opening completes the February 4, 1867 entry begun on PDF page 81 and ends with an explicit `R. D. Roberts` signature. It has a confirmed parallel across RDR PDF pages 10-11. RDR closely paraphrases and expands the migration account. - The Welsh appears to state that Taliesin Hughes's mother died in Illinois. RDR page 10 instead says that his mother lived in Illinois. Both readings are preserved as a material textual disagreement; RDR has not been used to override the Welsh. - The April 14, 1868 birth notice has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 11. The Welsh source form `Sarah Cathrina Hopkin` is preserved. - The family register has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 11. The page identifies Edward Roberts's July 1854 letter as the immediate source and says that David R. Roberts had entered the children's record in his own hand. Robert D. Roberts is the present page's scribe; David R. Roberts is the content author of the underlying Bible register. - The letter's July day is not fully secure from the Welsh letterforms and remains `[unclear: 20fed]`; RDR supplies July 20 but is not treated as decisive. The overwritten month for Cathrina is represented as written rather than silently normalized. - The handwriting remains continuous with the signed Robert D. Roberts hand on page 81. Explicit signatures after the migration account and at the bottom of the page support confirmed scribal attribution.

PDF page 83

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Logan City, November 5, 1869	Logan City, November 5, 1869
On Monday afternoon, October 11, in the year 1869, Elizabeth, our sister and the wife of Taliesin Hughes, gave birth to twins, a boy and a girl, but they lived only a short time. Elizabeth had been unwell while arranging her brother-in-law's bed, which was required to be in a high place; this caused their premature birth. Elizabeth has recovered exceptionally well. We give their names as James and Margaret Hughes.	Brynhawn dydd Llun, Hydref yr unfed ar ddeg (11), y flwyddyn 1869, rhoddodd Elizabeth ein chwaer, gwraig Taliesin Hughes, ei chenedigaeth a gefeilliaid, bachgen a merch, ond ni ddaethant i fyw ond ychydig o amser. Elizabeth a fu yn afiachus wrth dacluso gwely ei brawd ynghyfraith, yr hwn a oedd ar le uchel yn gofyn; yr hyn a achosodd eu hanamserol enedigaeth. Mae Elizabeth wedi gwella yn rhagorol o dda. Mi yr ydym am eu henwau, sef James a Margaret Hughes.
They intend to go to Salt Lake City at the end of the year to be washed and anointed in the house of the Lord on [unclear in Welsh: the twenty-first] (22) of November 1869. They live in Meadow Valley, Sevier County, Utah Territory.	Maent yn bwriadu myned i Ddinas y Llyn Halen yn niwedd y flwyddyn i gael eu golchi a'u heneinio yn nhŷ yr Arglwydd ar yr [unclear: unfed ar hugain] (22) o Dachwedd 1869. Maent yn byw yn Meadow Valley, Sevier County, Utah Territory.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
Logan City, January 1870	Logan City, January 1870
There is an error in the account above concerning the twins; their names are James and Cathrina, Cathrina having the same name as the mother of Elizabeth, our sister.	Mae gwall yn y cofiant uchod ynghylch y gefeilliaid; eu henwau yw James a Cathrina, a'r Cathrina yr un enw a mam Elizabeth ein chwaer.
On November 22, 1869, instead of the fifteenth (15), they were [unclear in Welsh: consecrated] in the house of the Lord in Salt Lake City.	Ar yr ail ar hugain (22) o Dachwedd 1869, yn lle yr bymtheg (15), y cawsant eu [unclear: hymgysegru] yn nhŷ yr Arglwydd yn Ninas y Llyn Halen.
Robert D. Roberts	Robert D. Roberts
[Unclear in Welsh: A house was taken] from William Cowley, and on June 11, 1870, Hannah Roberts and I went to live together for the first time. Everything is well now. July 14, 1870.	[unclear: Ty a gymerwyd] gan William Cowley, a Mehefin 11, 1870, yr aethom i fyw am y tro cyntaf hefo ein gilydd, Hannah Roberts ac mi. Mae pob peth yn dda yn awr. Gorphenaf 14, 1870.

Editorial note: - Page 83 does not continue the copied family Bible register on page 82. It begins a new November 1869 first-person family entry. - The November 5, 1869 entry has a confirmed parallel on RDR PDF page 11. RDR is a close paraphrase but incorporates the January 1870 correction below: it gives the girl's name as `Cathreina` rather than the initially written `Margaret`, and it gives November 22 for the planned temple visit. - The Welsh first writes an ordinal that appears inconsistent with the parenthetical `22`; both are preserved rather than silently harmonized. The January 1870 correction explicitly contrasts November 22 with the fifteenth. - The January 1870 correction has a confirmed conceptual parallel in RDR PDF page 11, although RDR folds the corrected facts into its main narrative rather than preserving the correction as a separate entry. - The closing June/July 1870 household note has a confirmed parallel on RDR PDF page 12. RDR expands the opening into `I rent a house of William M Cowly` and supplies Salt Lake City; the Welsh opening remains uncertain and the RDR expansion has not been substituted for it. - The page remains in the Robert D. Roberts handwriting group. Explicit `R. D. Roberts` and `Robert D. Roberts` signatures, first-person language, and continuity with pages 82 and 84 support confirmed attribution to him as both content author and scribe. No copied-source layer or secondary hand is evident. - Page 84 begins a new July 1870 entry; page 83 does not continue onto it.

PDF page 84

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Logan City, July 12, 1870	Logan City, Gorphenaf 12, 1870
On June 1, 1870, I set out for Smithfield to fetch Hannah Roberts and returned to Logan. The next day I set out for Salt Lake City and arrived there on the fourth. On the sixth we went to the House of the Lord to be united for time and eternity by Joseph F. Smith, one of the Apostles and a son of Hyrum Smith the patriarch. Hugh and Mary Roberts are Hannah's parents. At present they live in Smithfield, Cache County, Utah Territory. They emigrated from Eglwys bach, Pembrokeshire, Wales, to Salt Lake City in the year 1864.	Mehefin 1, 1870, yn cychwyn i Smithfield i nol Hannah Roberts, tac yn dod yn ol i Logan. Tranoeth yn cychwyn i Ddinas y Llyn Halen ac yn cyrraedd yno ar y bedwaredd, 4. Ar y chweched yn myned i Dy yr Arglwydd ac am gael ein huno am amser a thragywyddoldeb gan Joseph F. Smith, un o'r Apostolion, mab Hyrum Smith y patriarch. Hugh a Mary Roberts yw rhieni Hannah. Yn bresennol y maent yn byw yn Smithfield, Sir Cache, Territory Utah. Ymfudasant o Eglwys bach, Sir Benfro, Cymru, i Ddinas y Llyn Halen yn y flwyddyn 1864.
Robert David Roberts	Robert David Roberts
Hannah Roberts was born March 27, 1847, at Eglwys bach, Pembrokeshire.	Hannah Roberts a anwyd Mawrth 27, 1847, yn Eglwys bach, Sir Benfro.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
January 4, 1871	Ionawr 4, 1871
Ann, our sister, gave birth to a fine son at six [unclear in Welsh: in the morning], weighing ten pounds. His name was David Roberts Hopkin. He was blessed by [unclear: Benjamin M. Munnon] on May 4, 1871.	Ann ein chwaer a roddodd enedigaeth i fab glan yn chweg [unclear: arno] yn boreu, deg pwys. Ei enw, David Roberts Hopkin. Bendithiwyd ef gan [unclear: Benjamin M. Munnon], Mai 4, 1871.
March 22, 1871	Mawrth 22, 1871
Elizabeth, our sister, gave birth to twin girls on February 8, 1871, at Farmington, Utah, Davis County. Their names were Ann and Margaret. Ann was born at forty minutes past nine in the evening (9:40); Margaret at thirty minutes past ten (10:30). Ann weighed five and three-quarter pounds (5 3/4 lbs); Margaret five and one-quarter pounds (5 1/4 lbs). [Sentence continues on PDF page 85]	Elizabeth ein chwaer a roddodd enedigaeth i ddwy gefeilliaid, Chwefror 8fed, 1871, yn Farmington, Utah, Davis County. Enw Ann a Margaret. Ann a aned am ddeugain munud wedi naw o'r gloch yn yr hwyr (9.40); Margaret am ddeg munud ar hugain wedi deg (10.30). Ann yn pwyso pum pwys a thri chwarter (5 3/4 lbs); Margaret yn pum pwys a chwarter (5 1/4 lbs). Mi fydd [continues on PDF page 85]

Editorial note: - Page 84 contains three dated entries. The July 1870 marriage and family-history entry and the January 1871 Hopkin birth notice are complete; the February 1871 twins account continues onto page 85. - The July entry has a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel on RDR PDF page 12. RDR supplies additional travel phrasing but preserves the same chronology, relationships, Eglwys bach origin, and 1864 migration year. - The January entry has a confirmed parallel on RDR PDF page 12. RDR reads the blessing name as `Benjamin M. Lewis`; the Welsh letterforms on this page remain uncertain and are not forced to match RDR. - The twins entry has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 12. The Welsh page independently writes the Farmington, Utah, Davis County location and preserves the names Ann and Margaret. - The handwriting remains continuous with the signed Robert D. Roberts group on page 83. The first-person marriage narrative, `Robert David Roberts` self-identification, and `R. D. Roberts` signature support confirmed content-author and scribal attribution.

PDF page 85

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 84]	[continuation from PDF page 84]
Margaret was weak and appeared unlikely to live long, when she [unclear in Welsh], but she is now growing stronger. Both were blessed on February 9, 1871, by Thomas J. Thomas.	Margaret yn wan ac yn edrych yn debyg na fuasai fyw ond ychydig, pan y [unclear: cawsai hi], ond y mae yn cryfhau yn awr. Bendithiwyd y ddwy Chwefror 9fed, 1871, gan Thomas J. Thomas.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
April 10, 1871	Ebrill 10, 1871
On March 30, 1871, at forty minutes past eight (8:40) in the evening, Hannah Roberts, my wife, gave birth to a strong and lively son. His voice was as clear as the morning breeze; he weighed nine pounds. His name is David (or Deffy) Robert Roberts. He was blessed by his grandfather Hugh Roberts on April 15, 1871.	Mawrth 30, 1871, am ddeugain munud wedi wyth (8.40) yn yr hwyr, Hannah Roberts fy ngwraig a roddodd enedigaeth i fab cryf a bywiog. Yr oedd ei lais mor lan a'r awel y boreu; naw pwys (9 lbs). Ei enw yw David (neu Deffy) Robert Roberts. Bendithiwyd ef gan ei daid Hugh Roberts, Ebrill 15, 1871.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
March 2, 1872	Mawrth 2, 1872
On February 26, Alizander Lewis came from Samaria, Oneida County, Idaho Territory, with the bad news of the death of Margaret, one of the twins of Elizabeth, our sister, and Taliesin Hughes. On the 28th I received a letter containing the same sorrow. The little one had caught a severe cold; she appeared to be improving, but suffered fits and departed on February 23, 1872. Her companion is ill with the cold, but we do not know how she is at present.	Chwefror 26 daeth Alizander Lewis o Samaria, Oneida County, Idaho Territory, a newydd drwg o farwolaeth Margaret, un o efeilliaid Elizabeth ein chwaer a Taliesin Hughes. Ar y 28 derbyniais lythyr yn cynnwys yr un gofid. Mae'r fechan wedi cael annwyd trwm; oedd yn edrych fel pe buasai yn gwella, gafodd ffitiau ac ymadawodd ar Chwefror 23, 1872. Mae ei chymhares yn sal o'r annwyd, ond nid ydym yn gwybod pa fodd y mae yn bresennol.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
April 10, 1872	Ebrill 10, 1872
On March 6, 1872, Jane, our sister, and Conar Hughes set out for Salt Lake City to be married. They arrived in the City on the ninth, and on the eleventh [continues on PDF page 86]	Mawrth 6, 1872. Jane ein chwaer a Conar Hughes yn cychwyn i Ddinas y Llyn Halen i briodi. Yn cyrraedd y Ddinas ar y 9fed, ac ar yr 11eg [continues on PDF page 86]

Editorial note: - The opening completes the February 1871 twins entry begun on page 84. It has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 12. RDR smooths the uncertain Welsh clause concerning Margaret's weakness. - The March 30, 1871 birth entry has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 13. The Welsh preserves the parenthetical name form `neu Deffy`; RDR gives only `David Robert Roberts`. - The February 1872 death notice has a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel on RDR PDF page 13. The Welsh source form `Alizander Lewis` is preserved rather than normalized to RDR's `Alexander Lewis`. - The March 1872 Jane and Conar Hughes entry has a confirmed parallel on RDR PDF page 13 and continues onto page 86. RDR supplies the later temple and Idaho details that are not yet present on page 85. - The page contains the same principal Robert D. Roberts hand and multiple explicit `R. D. Roberts` signatures. First-person family language supports confirmed attribution to him as both content author and scribe. No secondary hand or copied-source layer is evident.

PDF page 86

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 85]	[continuation from PDF page 85]
On the eleventh they went to the House of the Lord, where they were washed and anointed, and they were married by Daniel H. Wells for time and eternity. The next day they set out for home (that is, Logan) on the fifteenth, and on the twenty-first they set out for Samaria (Oneida County, Idaho Territory, Malad Valley), where they intend to make their home.	unfed ar ddeg euthant i Dy yr Arglwydd, lle y cawsant eu golchi a'u heneinio, a phriodwyd hwy gan Daniel H. Wells am amser a thragywyddoldeb. Tranoeth yn cychwyn i gartref (sef Logan) ar y 15, ac ar y 21 cychwynasant i Samaria (Oneida County, Idaho Territory, Malad Valley), lle y maent yn bwriadu cartrefu.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
March 24, 1873	Mawrth 24, 1873
On March 18, 1873, Jane, the wife of Conar Hughes, gave birth to a boy at about ten o'clock in the morning. He weighed nine pounds. His name is David Hughes. He was blessed by Owen Thomas, [unclear in Welsh], on May 4, 1873.	Mawrth 18, 1873, Jane gwraig Conar Hughes a esgorodd ar fachgen tua deg o'r gloch y boreu. Naw pwys ei bwys. Ei enw yw David Hughes. Bendithiwyd ef gan Owen Thomas, [unclear: mi a dybiaf], Mai 4, 1873.
March 6, 1874	Mawrth 6, 1874
Elizabeth, our sister, gave birth to two boys, twins. David Taliesin Hughes was born at 8:50 in the morning, and Thomas Hughes at 9:05. They were blessed by David Jones and Taliesin Hughes, their father, on March 6. Mother brought the lines from Samaria on March 24, 1874.	Elizabeth ein chwaer a esgorodd ar ddau fachgen, gefeilliaid. David Taliesin Hughes a anwyd am 8.50 y boreu, a Thomas Hughes am 9.5. Bendithiwyd hwy gan David Jones a Taliesin Hughes, eu tad, Mawrth 6. Daeth mam a'r llinellau o Samaria, Mawrth 24, 1874.
February 8, 1875	Chwefror 8, 1875
On January 12, Jane, our sister, and her husband Conar Hughes and their little boy David came to my mother's house, and on the twenty-second she gave birth to her second son at forty-seven minutes past ten (10:47) in the morning. He was a healthy and pleasant boy, weighing seven and a half pounds. His name is Daniel Hughes.	Ionawr 12 daeth Jane ein chwaer a'i gwr Conar Hughes a'i bachgen bach, David, i dy fy mam, ac ar yr ail ar hugain (22) hi a esgorodd ar ei hail fab am saith munud a deugain wedi deg (10.47) y boreu. Yr oedd yn fachgen iach a dymunol, saith pwys a hanner ei bwys. Ei enw yw Daniel Hughes.

Editorial note: - The opening completes the March 1872 marriage journey begun on page 85. It has a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel on RDR PDF page 13. RDR expands the prose but agrees on the temple marriage by Daniel H. Wells, the return to Logan, and the move to Samaria. - The March 1873 birth entry has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 13. The short phrase before the blessing date remains uncertain in Welsh and has not been supplied from RDR. - The March 1874 twins entry and January 1875 birth entry have confirmed close-paraphrase parallels on RDR PDF page 14. - The page is in the same Robert D. Roberts hand and contains an explicit R. D. Roberts signature. First-person family language supports confirmed attribution to him as content author and scribe. No secondary hand is evident.

PDF page 87

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
April 9, 1875	Ebrill 9, 1875
February 21. Daniel Roberts, my brother, was rebaptized by Robert Davidson; he was confirmed by Thomas McNeil, senior.	Chwefror 21. Daniel Roberts fy mrawd a gafodd ei ail fedydd gan Robert Davidson; cadarnhawyd ef gan Thomas McNeil, hen.
March 27. Daniel set out for Salt Lake City to marry and met his beloved at Hamilton Station. Taliesin, her brother, came with her from Samaria, Oneida County, Idaho. On the twenty-ninth they went to the House of the Lord, where they were washed and anointed and covenanted for time and eternity by Wilford Woodruff. Daniel was ordained an Elder by Samuel J. Smith. They rented a house in Ogden, and on April 3 they moved there.	Mawrth 27. Daniel a gychwynodd i Ddinas y Llyn Halen i briodi, a chyfarfu a'i anwylyd yn Hamilton Station. Taliesin, ei brawd, a ddaeth gyda hi o Samaria, Oneida County, Idaho. Ar y 29 euthant i Dy yr Arglwydd, lle y cawsant eu golchi a'u heneinio, a chyfamodwyd hwy am amser a thragywyddoldeb gan Wilford Woodruff. Ordeiniwyd Daniel yn Elder gan Samuel J. Smith. Cymerasant dy ar rent yn Ogden, ac ar Ebrill 3 symudasant yno.
July 4, 1875	Gorffennaf 4, 1875
Today I was baptized into the United Order by Robert Davidson; I was confirmed by Thomas McNeil.	Heddyw cefais fy medyddio i'r United Order gan Robert Davidson; cadarnhawyd fi gan Thomas McNeil.
On the tenth, Hannah Roberts, my wife, was baptized by Joseph White; she was confirmed by Robert Davidson.	Ar y 10fed Hannah Roberts fy ngwraig a gafodd ei bedyddio gan Joseph White; cadarnhawyd hi gan Robert Davidson.
October 4, 1875	Hydref 4, 1875
Today mother and Ann Hopkin, my sister, were baptized into the United Order by Joseph White. Ann was confirmed by Henry Ballard, and mother by Charles C. Card.	Heddyw cafodd mam ac Ann Hopkin fy chwaer eu bedyddio i'r United Order gan Joseph White. Cadarnhawyd Ann gan Henry Ballard, a mam gan Charles C. Card.
October 16, 1875	Hydref 16, 1875
On the eighth, Ann Hopkin, my sister, set out for Salt Lake City. On the ninth mother and I set out, and we arrived there on the tenth. We attended conference meetings. On the eleventh I received my citizenship paper. On the thirteenth we were baptized in the House of the Lord for a number of relatives. We do not know who confirmed us. The names of the relatives [continues on PDF page 88]	Ar yr 8fed Ann Hopkin fy chwaer a gychwynodd i Ddinas y Llyn Halen. Ar y 9fed cychwynodd mam a minnau, a chyrhaeddasom yno ar y 10fed. Buom mewn cyfarfodydd Conference. Ar yr 11eg cefais fy mhapur dinasyddiaeth. Ar y 13eg cawsom ein bedyddio yn Nhy yr Arglwydd dros nifer o berthnasau. Ni wyddom pwy a'n cadarnhaodd. Enwau'r perthnasau [continues on PDF page 88]

Editorial note: - The page contains five discrete dated entry groups. None continues from page 86; the October entry continues onto page 88. - The February and March 1875 entries have confirmed close-paraphrase parallels on RDR PDF page 14. RDR expands some travel and household detail. - The July and October 1875 entries have confirmed close-paraphrase parallels across RDR PDF pages 14–15. - The Welsh page preserves first-person citizenship and proxy-baptism wording. RDR is useful for sense and names but has not been used to replace Welsh letterforms. - Handwriting and first-person continuity with the explicitly signed page 86 make Robert D. Roberts the probable content author and scribe. No distinct secondary hand is visible on this page.

PDF page 88 Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 87]	[continuation from PDF page 87]
follow below. I was baptized for a number of my father's relatives, whose names and relationships appear below. Samuel Smith performed the baptisms; [unclear Welsh wording concerning the confirmations and Felix G. Ambler] for those for whom I stood.	yn dilynant. Yr wyf fi yn bedyddio dros nifer o berthnasau fy nhad, sef y rhai y mae'r enwau isod ar eu perthynas. Samuel Smith yn bedyddio; cadarnhawyd [unclear: canlyn] ei enwau gan Felix G. [unclear: Ambler], y rhai y cefais i eu [unclear: sefyll drostynt].
Robert Roberts, my grandfather; Salmon Roberts, great-uncle; William Roberts, great-uncle; William Roberts, husband of [unclear: Griffith] Morris; [unclear: Griffith] Morris, cousin; [unclear relationship wording] Thomas Richard, my grandfather; Richard Thomas, second grandfather; Thomas Williams, third grandfather; Robert Richard, great-uncle; Rowland Morris, second grandfather; Rowland Morris, great-uncle; Henry Morris, great-uncle.	Robert Roberts, fy nha(i)d; Salmon Roberts, hen ewythr; William Roberts, hen ewythr; William Roberts, gwr [unclear: Griffith] Morris; [unclear: Griffith] Morris, cefnder; [unclear: yn nhad] Thomas Richard, fy nha(i)d; Richard Thomas, ail daid; Thomas Williams, trydydd daid; Robert Richard, hen ewythr; Rowland Morris, ail daid; Rowland Morris, hen ewythr; Henry Morris, hen ewythr.
Ann Hopkin was baptized for the following:	Ann Hopkin a gafodd ei bedyddio tros y rhai canlyn:
Elizabeth Edwards, mother; Margaret Roberts, great-aunt; Cathreine Roberts, great-aunt; Jane Roberts, great-aunt; Ann Roberts, great-aunt; Elinor Roberts, great-aunt; Elizabeth Roberts, great-aunt; Elizabeth Roberts, cousin; Elinor Roberts, cousin; Ann Parry, second grandmother.	Elizabeth Edwards, mam; Margaret Roberts, hen fodryb; Cathreine Roberts, hen fodryb; Jane Roberts, hen fodryb; Ann Roberts, hen fodryb; Elinor Roberts, hen fodryb; Elizabeth Roberts, hen fodryb; Elizabeth Roberts, cyfnither; Elinor Roberts, cyfnither; Ann Parry, ail nain.
My mother Cathreina Roberts was baptized for the following:	Fy mam Cathreina Roberts a gafodd ei bedyddio tros y rhai a ganlyn:
Ann Morris, mother; Elizabeth Thomas, grandmother; Cathreine Ych Richard, second grandmother; Cathreine Richards, aunt; Jane Richards, aunt; Jane Parry, grandmother; Janet Morris, aunt; Elinor Morris, aunt; Elizabeth Morris, aunt; Cathreine Morris, aunt; Jane Thomas, sister.	Ann Morris, mam; Elizabeth Thomas, nain; Cathreine Ych Richard, ail nain; Cathreine Richards, modryb; Jane Richards, modryb; Jane Parry, nain; Janet Morris, modryb; Elinor Morris, modryb; Elizabeth Morris, modryb; Cathreine Morris, modryb; Jane Thomas, chwaer.
The following names were married and sealed and blessed with the blessings of the everlasting gospel [continues on PDF page 89]	Cafodd yr enwau canlynol eu priodi a'u selio a'u bendithio a bendithion yr efengyl dragwyddol [continues on PDF page 89]

Editorial note: - This page continues the October 1875 proxy-baptism entry from page 87 and continues onto page 89 with a sealing list. - The family lists have confirmed close historical parallels across RDR PDF pages 15–16. RDR clarifies the overall register structure but is not treated as authority for uncertain Welsh names or relationship words. - Several opening and paternal-list words remain uncertain because of dense handwriting, overwriting, and ink loss. The page therefore remains `needs-review` despite the strong RDR parallel. - Source forms including `Cathreine` and `Ych Richard` are preserved. RDR's English relationship labels are not silently substituted where the Welsh remains uncertain. - Handwriting continuity and the first-person proxy statement support probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as both content author and scribe. No secondary hand is evident.

PDF page 89

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 88]	[continuation from PDF page 88]
and a part in the first resurrection, by Joseph F. Smith.	a rhan yn yr adgyfodiad cyntaf gan Joseph F. Smith.
Robert Roberts to Elizabeth Edwards.	Robert Roberts i Elizabeth Edwards.
Griffith Morris to Elizabeth Roberts.	Griffith Morris i Elizabeth Roberts.
Proxies: Robert David Roberts and Ann Roberts Hopkin.	Dirprwywyr: Robert David Roberts ac Ann Roberts Hopkin.
Thomas Richards to Ann Morris.	Thomas Richards i Ann Morris.
Richard Thomas to Elizabeth Thomas.	Richard Thomas i Elizabeth Thomas.
Thomas Williams to Cathreine Ych Richards.	Thomas Williams i Cathreine Ych Richards.
Rowland Morris to Jane Parry.	Rowland Morris i Jane Parry.
John Thomas to Elinor Morris.	John Thomas i Elinor Morris.
Robert Richards to Elizabeth Morris.	Robert Richards i Elizabeth Morris.
Henry Morris to Cathreine Morris.	Henry Morris i Cathreine Morris.
Proxies: Robert David Roberts and Cathreine Thomas Roberts.	Dirprwywyr: Robert David Roberts a Cathreine Thomas Roberts.
May 22, 1876	Mai 22, 1876
At five minutes past twelve noon, Hanah Roberts, my wife, gave birth to a little boy weighing four pounds. He looks quite healthy, but he is rather weak. Looking at him, I think that, if he is nurtured, he will become a wise and educated boy. He was blessed by Georg Painter that same day; his name is Hugh Roberts.	Hanah Roberts fy ngwraig, am bum munud wedi deuddeg canol dydd (5 wedi 12), a roddodd enedigaeth i fachgian bach yn pwyso bedwar pwys (4 lbs). Mae yn edrych yn eitha iach, ond y mae yn lled wan. Wrth edrych arno mi a dybiaf, yn cael ei feithrin, y daw yn fachgian doeth a dysgedig. Bendithiwyd ef gan Georg Painter yr un dydd; ei enw Hugh Roberts.
June 1, 1876	Mehefin 1, 1876
Sarah Cathreina Hopkin was baptized by Charles Olson; she was confirmed under Christian L. Larson.	Sarah Cathreina Hopkin fu fedyddiwyd gan Charles Olson; cadarnhawyd hi dan Christian L. Larson.
July 10, 1876	Gorffennaf 10, 1876

At half past seven in the morning, Sarah Ann, the wife of Daniel Roberts in Ogden, [continues on PDF page 90]	Sarah Ann, gwraig Daniel Roberts yn Ogden, am haner awr wedi saith yn y bore, a [continues on PDF page 90]
---	--

Editorial note: - The opening completes the sealing list begun on page 88. It has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 16. The Welsh order, name forms, and proxy grouping are preserved independently. - The May and June 1876 entries have confirmed close-paraphrase parallels on RDR PDF page 17. RDR normalizes `Hanah` to `Hannah` and `Georg` to `George`; the Welsh source forms remain unchanged here. - The July 1876 entry continues onto page 90 and has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 17. - Handwriting continuity and first-person family language support probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears on this page.

PDF page 90

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 89]	[continuation from PDF page 89]
gave birth to a girl who appeared to have a strong constitution, weighing nine pounds. On October 5 she was blessed in Logan by Thomas Jones; her name is Cathreina Roberts.	rhod enedigaeth i eneth yn edrych a chyfansoddiad cryf, yn pwysu naw pwys (9 pwys). Hydref 5 bendithiwyd hi yn Logan gan Thomas Jones; ei henw yw Cathreina Roberts.
December 29, 1876	Rhagfyr 29, 1876
Jane Hughes, our sister, gave birth to a boy at fifteen minutes past nine (9:15) in the morning in Samaria, Oneida County, Idaho Territory. He was blessed on February 11, 1877, by Owen Thomas; his name is James Hughes. At one month old he weighed eleven pounds.	Jane Hughes ein chwaer a rhodd enedigaeth i fachgan am bymtheg munud wedi naw (9.15) yn y bore yn Samaria, Sir Oneida, Tiriogaeth Idaho. Bendithiwyd ef Chwefror 11, 1877, gan Owen Thomas; ei enw James Hughes. Pwysiodd ef yn fis oed, 11 lbs.
January 23, 1877	Ionawr 23, 1877
At twenty-five minutes past eleven (11:25) in the morning, Elizabeth Hughes, our sister and the wife of Taliesin Hughes, gave birth to a girl in Samaria, Oneida County, Idaho Territory. She was blessed on February 18 by Owen Thomas; her name is Maria Hughes.	Am bum munud ar hugain wedi un ar ddeg (11.25) yn y bore, Elizabeth Hughes ein chwaer, gwraig Taliesin Hughes, a rhodd enedigaeth i eneth yn Samaria, Sir Oneida, Tiriogaeth Idaho. Bendithiwyd hi Chwefror 18 gan Owen Thomas; ei henw Maria Hughes.
May 16, 1877	Mai 16, 1877
Daniel, in Ogden this morning, received by telegram from Malad Valley, Samaria, the sorrowful news of the death of our beloved sister Elizabeth. He was conducting the carriage that brought Brigham Young and his companions to Logan; between twelve and one o'clock he brought the grievous news to the family in this part of the country. Our beloved sister departed this life at six o'clock in the morning, peacefully and quietly. She desired her family to come and lay her remains in the earth until the morning of the resurrection. On the seventeenth we began our journey there; we encountered a storm [continues on PDF page 91]	Daniel yn Ogden y bore hediw a dderbyniodd y newydd truanus o farwolaeth ein hanwyl chwaer Elizabeth gyda'r telegram o Ddyffryn Mallad, Samaria. Ef yn arwain ar y cerbyd a ddygodd Brigham Young a'i gyfeillion i Logan rhwng deuddeg ac un o'r gloch; fe a ddaeth a'r newydd calarus i'r teulu yn y rhan hon o'r wlad. Bu ein hanwyl chwaer i ymadael a'r fuchedd hon am chwech o'r gloch yn y bore yn esmwyth a thawel. Mi roedd yn dymuno ar i'w theulu i ddod i rhoi ei gweddillion i orwedd yn y ddaear hyd fore yr adgyfodiad. Ar y 17eg cychwynasom ein taith tuag yno; cawsom dymhestl [continues on PDF page 91]

Editorial note: - The opening completes Sarah Ann Roberts's July 1876 birth entry from page 89. The December 1876 and January 1877 entries are separate family notices. All have confirmed close-paraphrase parallels on RDR PDF page 17. - The May 1877 Elizabeth Hughes death narrative is a separate entry and continues onto page 91. It has a confirmed close historical parallel on RDR PDF page 18. - RDR expands punctuation and some travel context. The Welsh manuscript remains the authority for its wording and chronology. - Handwriting and first-person narrative continuity support probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No secondary hand or signature appears.

PDF page 91 Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 90]	[continuation from PDF page 90]
of severe cold and wind, and we were unable to go any farther than Square Town that day. On the eighteenth the weather was rather unpleasant, and we reached Samaria a few minutes after ten. Looking at her husband and her little children, the house and surroundings where she had moved about and sought to make herself, her husband, and her children comfortable, her breast was cold, her tongue silent and her lips closed, her appearance and expression gone, the spirit having risen and fled away, leaving only poor, cold earth to look upon, and it was time to lay it to rest before it crumbled. At about two o'clock her remains were carried to the old Hall, where we heard a good sermon in Welsh by Owen Thomas and took our last look at her remains.	a iawn a gwynt oer, ac ni fuom yn alluog i fyned dim pellach na Square Town y dydd hwn. Y 18fed, y tywydd yn lled anhyfryd, a chyrhaeddasom Samaria am ychydig o funudau wedi deg. Wrth edrych ar ei phriod a'i phlant bach, y ty a'r amgylchoedd lle yr oedd wedi bod yn rhodio ac yn amcanu i wneuthur ei hun a'i phriod a'i phlant yn gyffurus, ei mynwes yn oer, y tafod yn fud a'r wefusau yn nghlo, y wedd a'r olwg wedi pellhau, yr yspryd wedi cyfodi ffo ymaith, a dim ond rhyw bridd gwael ac oer oedd i edrych arno, ac yn amser ei roi i orwedd cyn iddo falurio. Am ddau o'r gloch cludwyd ei gweddillion i'r old Hall, lle y cawsom bregeth dda yn Gymraeg gan Owen Thomas, a'r olwg ddiweddaf ar ei gweddillion.
She gave birth to seven children, three boys and four girls; four are now living, two boys and two girls. On the twentieth we set out for home. [Uncertain Welsh wording concerning the return journey and Conar's boy breaking his arm a little above the elbow.] On that same day, the sixteenth, our sister Elizabeth departed this life. The boy is recovering well. This was written on June 3, 1877.	Hi a roddodd enedigaeth i saith o blant, tri o fechgyn a phedair o ferched; mae pedwar yn fyw yn bresennol, dau fachgen a dwy ferch. Ar yr ugeinfed (20) cychwynasom dros adref; [unclear: ar un dydd cyrhaeddasom trwy storm i fachgen Conar i dori ei fraich] ychydig uwchlaw ei benelin. Ar yr un dydd, sef 16, a daeth ein chwaer Elizabeth i ymadael a'r fuchedd hon. Mae yn gwella yn dda. Hwn wedi ei ysgrifenu ar y Mehefin 3, 1877.
September 4, 1877	Medi 4, 1877
Taliesin Hughes and his sister Maria Roberts, with the young daughter of our sister Elizabeth, and a young woman named Jane Mason, about eighteen years old, were married by William B. Preston in his house. They returned as far as Hamilton Station, to the house of Ann, our sister, where Jane, our sister, was staying.	Taliesin Hughes a'i chwaer Maria Roberts, a'r eneth ieuanc Elizabeth ein chwaer, a merch ifanc o'r enw Jane Mason, tua deunaw mlwydd ei hoed, a briodwyd hwy gan William B. Preston yn ei dy. Dychwelodd a chyrhaeddasant hyd mor bell a Hamilton Station i dy Ann ein chwaer, lle yr oedd Jane ein chwaer.

Editorial note: - The opening completes Elizabeth Hughes's death, funeral, and return-journey narrative from page 90. It has a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel on RDR PDF page 18. - The manuscript clearly preserves `Square Town`; RDR uses lowercase `square town`. The existing RDR annotation identifies this historically with the early settlement later known as Plymouth, but that identification is not inserted into the Welsh transcription. - The sentence concerning the return journey, Conar Hughes's boy, and the broken arm is syntactically dense and remains partly uncertain. RDR clarifies the event but cannot determine every Welsh letterform or clause boundary. - Targeted enlarged reinspection resolves the family-summary phrase as `tri o fechgyn a phedair o ferched` (three boys and four girls), agreeing with the RDR historical parallel. The earlier draft's "three pairs of twins" was a transcription error and has been corrected from the Welsh letterforms. - The September 1877 marriage entry is separate and has a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel on RDR PDF page 19. RDR supplies smoother relationship wording but does not replace the Welsh source. - Handwriting and first-person family continuity support probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or new hand appears.

PDF page 92

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
April 10, 1878	Ebrill 10, 1878
My beloved wife departed this life peacefully, as though falling asleep. She had suffered unusual illness and pain since the beginning of March, beginning with her teeth; her body swelled as in dropsy. [Some medical wording remains uncertain.] She had little health after marrying and twice miscarried, coming close to losing her life each time. She had looked and felt better this winter than for many days, yet despite everything the destroyer took hold of her constitution and separated spirit from body. She was an excellent, clean, and thrifty wife who managed her work very well; an excellent mother to her little children, teaching them to pray and acknowledge God as soon as they were able; and a loving, peaceable neighbor.	Ymadawodd fy anwyl wraig a'r fuchedd hon yn dawel fel i gysgu. Cafodd afiechyd a phoen anghyffredin er dechreu Mawrth, efo'i dannedd i ddechreu; chwyddodd ei chorff yn debyg i'r dropsi. Roedd rhai o'r meddygon yn ei galw yn lled salach ac iawn. Ni chafodd fawr o iechyd ar ol briodi; ymsgariodd a'i bron yn agos i colli ei bywyd pob dro. Mi roedd yn edrych ac yn deimlo yn well y gaeaf hwn nag y bu ers llawer dydd; er hyn i gyd ymaflodd y dinistrwr yn ei chyfansoddiad a gwahanodd yr ysbryd a'r corff. Mi roedd yn wraig ardderchog o lan yn fan a chefnil ac yn medru ei gwaith yn eitha iawn; yn fam rhagorol iawn i'w phlant bach, yn eu dysgu i weddio ac i gydnabod Duw mor fuan ac y byddent yn bosibl; mi roedd yn gymydog cariadus a heddychlon.
On the twelfth, at eleven in the morning, we took her remains to the old Hall, where we had a good meeting: prayer by Thomas McNeil; sermons by John Parry, Robert Davidson, and Henry Ballard; benediction by David W. Davies; singing led by Alizander Lewis. She was buried in the Logan cemetery, where Benjamin Williams offered prayer. This was written on May 5.	Ar y deuddegfed (12), am unarddeg o'r gloch (11) y bore, aethom a'i gweddillion i'r hen Hall, lle y cawsom gyfarfod da: gweddi gan Thomas McNeil; pregethau gan John Parry, Robert Davidson a Henry Ballard; diweddiad gan David W. Davies; arweiniwyd y canu gan Alizander Lewis. Claddwyd hi yn mynwent Logan; gweddiwyd gan Benjamin Williams yn y fynwent. Hwn wedi ei ysgrifenu ar y 5ed Mai.
February 21, 1878	Chwefror 21, 1878
Sarah Ann, the wife of our brother Daniel, gave birth to a little girl at half past six in the evening. On June 6 she was blessed by Thomas McNeil; her name is Margaret Roberts. She appears to be a pretty baby who will grow into a beautiful girl [continues on PDF page 93]	Sarah Ann, gwraig Daniel ein brawd, a rodd enedigaeth i eneth fach am haner awr wedi chwech yn yr hwyr. Mehefin 6 bendithiwyd hi gan Thomas McNeil; ei henw yw Margaret Roberts. Mae yn edrych yn faban clws ac y cyfyd ferch lan [continues on PDF page 93]

Editorial note: - The April 1878 obituary and funeral entry has a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel on RDR PDF page 19. RDR expands and smooths several medical and character descriptions; uncertain Welsh medical wording remains cautious here. - Welsh source forms `Robert Davidson` and `Alizander Lewis` are preserved despite RDR's normalized `Robert Davieson` and `Alexander Lewis`. - The February 1878 birth entry is nonchronological and continues onto page 93. It has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 19. - First-person spousal language and handwriting continuity support confirmed attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe, although no signature appears on this page.

PDF page 93

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 92]	[continuation from PDF page 92]
December 29, 1878	Rhagfyr 29, 1878
Jane, our sister and the wife of Conar Hughes, living in Samaria, gave birth to a boy who looked well and strong at five minutes to eight in the morning. His name is Conar Hughes.	Jane ein chwaer, gwraig Conar Hughes, yn byw yn Samaria, a rhodd enedigaeth i fachgan yn edrych yn dda ac yn gryf am bum munud i wyth yn y bore. Ei enw yw Conar Hughes.
April 3, 1879	Ebrill 3, 1879
David Robert Roberts was baptized by William Waterson and confirmed by Robert Davidson that same day. David Roberts Hopkin was also baptized by Christian L. Larson and confirmed by Henry Ballard that same day.	Bedyddiwyd David Robert Roberts gan William Waterson; cadarnhawyd ef gan Robert Davidson yr un dydd. Ac hefyd bedyddiwyd David Roberts Hopkin gan Christian L. Larson, a chadarnhawyd ef gan Henry Ballard yr un dydd.
May 26, 1879	Mai 26, 1879
At ten minutes past seven in the morning, Ann Hopkin, our sister, gave birth to a strong and lively boy weighing ten pounds. He was blessed by Christian L. Larson on July 3, 1879; his name is William John Hopkin.	Am ddeg munud wedi saith yn y bore (10 wedi 7), Ann Hopkin ein chwaer a rodd enedigaeth i fachgen cryf a bywiog yn pwyso deg pwys (10 lbs). Bendithiwyd ef gan Christian L. Larson Gorffennaf 3, 1879; ei enw William John Hopkin.
June 23, 1879	Mehefin 23, 1879
A few minutes before one in the afternoon, David Taliesin Hughes died of a throat disease after an illness of about three days. He became ill at school on Friday morning and died.	Am ychydig o funudau i un o'r gloch y prydawn bu i David Taliesin Hughes farw o glefyd y gwddf ar ol ychydig o dri diwrnod. Aeth yn sal yn yr ysgol fore Gwener a bu farw.
Hyrum Hughes became ill with the same disease on the twenty-first of the same month [continues on PDF page 94]	Hyrum Hughes a clafychodd o'r un clefyd ar yr unfed ar hugain (21) o'r un mis [continues on PDF page 94]

Editorial note: - The opening closes the February 1878 entry begun on page 92, then four distinct dated entries follow. - The December 1878, April 1879, and May 1879 entries have confirmed close-paraphrase parallels on RDR PDF page 20. - The manuscript heading for the Hughes death entry appears as `Mehefin 23, 1879`; RDR gives June 28. Both are preserved as a textual disagreement rather than harmonized. - The Hughes death entry continues onto page 94 and has a confirmed close parallel on RDR PDF page 20. - Handwriting continuity and first-person family language support probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears.

PDF page 94

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 93]	[continuation from PDF page 93]
and died at about two o'clock in the morning on the twenty-fifth. He had been very ill with the disease. Born on March 6, 1874, the two were fine boys who appeared likely to grow into strong young men. They were buried in Samaria, Oneida County, Idaho Territory, where their father lives.	ac a fu farw am ddau o'r gloch y bore 25. Mi roedd ef clu yn glefyd. Wedi ei eni Mawrth 6, 1874, mae'r ddau yn fechgyn braf iawn ac yn ymddangos y buasent yn tyfu i fechgyn cryf. Claddwyd hwy yn Samaria, Oneida, Tiriogaeth Idaho, lle y mae eu tad yn byw.
Logan City, October 4, 1879	Logan City, Hydref 4, 1879
Sarah Ann Roberts, the wife of Daniel Roberts, gave birth to a little girl at about one o'clock in the afternoon, weighing nine pounds. On December 4 she was blessed by Thomas McNeil; her name is Ida Roberts.	Sarah Ann Roberts, gwraig Daniel Roberts, a rhodd enedigaeth i ferch fechan yn yr hwyr am un o'r gloch y prydawn, yn pwyso 9 lbs. Rhagfyr 4 bendithiwyd hi gan Thomas McNeil; ei henw yw Ida Roberts.
August 5, 1880	Awst 5, 1880
Sarah Ann, the wife of Daniel Roberts, was rebaptized by Christian L. Larson. She was confirmed by Henry Ballard.	Sarah Ann, gwraig Daniel Roberts, a fedyddiwyd ar unwaith gan Christian L. Larson. Cadarnhawyd hi gan Henry Ballard.
February 19, 1881	Chwefror 19, 1881
Thomas J. Roberts was rebaptized by Henry Ballard and confirmed by the same man. On the twenty-fourth, he and his intended wife, Margaret Davies, went to the House of the Lord in Salt Lake City and were united in the bond of the everlasting covenant as husband and wife for time and all eternity by Daniel H. Wells.	Thomas J. Roberts a ail fedyddiwyd gan Henry Ballard; cadarnhawyd ef gan yr un. Ac ar y 24ain, fe a'i amcanwraig Margaret Davies a aethant i Dy yr Arglwydd yn Ninas y Llyn Halen, a unwyd yn nghwlmw y cyfamod tragwyddol i fod yn wr a gwraig am amser ac am dragwyddoldeb gan Daniel H. Wells.
Margaret received her endowment at the same time [continues on PDF page 95]	Margaret yn cael ei hindowment ar yr un pryd [continues on PDF page 95]

Editorial note: - The opening completes the Hughes twins entry begun on page 93. It has a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel on RDR PDF page 20. - The October 1879 birth and August 1880 rebaptism entries have confirmed close parallels on RDR PDF pages 20–21. - The February 1881 marriage entry continues onto page 95 and has a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel on RDR PDF page 21. - The Welsh and RDR both preserve a contradictory afternoon time expression for the October 1879 birth; it is not silently corrected. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or new hand appears.

PDF page 95 Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
[continuation from PDF page 94]	[continuation from PDF page 94]
Miss Davies was born in Rhosllanerchrugog, Denbighshire, Wales, on June 30, 1854.	Miss Davies a aned yn Rhosllanerchrugog, Cymru, yn Sir Ddinbych, 30 Mehefin 1854.
She was baptized by Henry Hatfield in Liverpool and confirmed by Joseph H. Smith in August 1877.	Bedyddiwyd hi gan Henry Hatfield yn Liverpool. Cadarnhawyd gan Joseph H. Smith, Awst 1877.
She emigrated to Utah in 1878 and arrived in Salt Lake City, where she stayed with the family of Mr. William Williams in Kensington until April 1880. Then she and her sister Polly, who had emigrated to Salt Lake City in 1879, came to Logan and rented a small place from Mrs. W. H. Garry, where they kept a sewing business and remain at present.	Ymfudodd i Utah yn y flwyddyn 1878, a chyrhaeddodd Dinas y Llyn Halen ac arhosodd hi efo teulu Mr William Williams, Kensington, nes yr oedd yn Ebrill 1880, pan y daeth hi a'i chwaer Polly, yr hon a ymfudodd yn y flwyddyn 1879 i Ddinas y Llyn Halen, pan y daethant i Logan a rhentu lle bychan gan Mrs W. H. Garry, ac yr oedd yn cadw busnes gwnio lle y maent yn bresennol.
Her parents are Robert and Ann Davies. They were baptized in Rhosllanerchrugog, Wales, in 1855 by Elder John Berry. In April 1858 they moved to Manchester.	Ei rhieni yw Robert ac Ann Davies. Bedyddiwyd hwy yn Rhosllanerchrugog, Cymru, yn y flwyddyn 1855 gan John Berry, Elder. Yn Ebrill y flwyddyn 1858 daethant i fyw i Manchester.
In 1860 they moved to Liverpool, and on October 18, 1879, they emigrated from Liverpool to Utah, arriving in Logan, Utah, on November 10, 1879.	Yn y flwyddyn 1860 daethant i fyw i Liverpool, ac ymfudasant o Liverpool i Utah Hydref 18, 1879, a chyrhaeddasant Utah, Logan, Tachwedd 10, 1879.
Two sons and three or four daughters remain in the old country and have not yet come here.	Mae dau fab a thair neu bedair o ferched yn y wlad eto heb ddod yma eto.

Editorial note: - This page completes the February 1881 Margaret Goodman Davies account begun on page 94. It has a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel on RDR PDF page 21. - The Welsh preserves `Rhosllanerchrugog`, `Liverpool`, `Kensington`, and the family migration dates. RDR expands some English connective wording but follows the same sequence. - The occupational phrase is translated cautiously as a sewing business; RDR specifies millinery. The Welsh wording should receive further specialist review before status promotion. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible on pages 92–95. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears.

PDF page 96

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
March 22, 1881	Mawrth 22ain 1881
At six in the evening, our sister Jane Hughes gave birth to a little girl weighing four pounds. The mother and daughter are doing well. She was born in Denbigh, Ontario County, Belle Farmley.	Am chwech yn yr hwyr Jane Hughes ein chwaer a rodd enedigaeth i ferch fechan yn pwysu 4 pwys. Mae y fam a'r ferch yn cymeryd yn dda. Ganwyd hi yn Denbigh, Ontario County, Belle Farmley.
Logan City, October 21, 1881	Logan City Hydref 21ain 1881
At fifteen minutes past three in the morning (3:15 a.m.), Sarah Ann Roberts, wife of Daniel Roberts, gave birth to a fine daughter weighing ten and a half pounds. She was blessed on December 5 by Christian L. Larson and named Ann Roberts.	Sarah Ann Roberts, gwraig Daniel Roberts, am bymtheg munud wedi tri yn y bore (3.15 a.m.) a rodd enedigaeth i ferch lan yn pwysu deg pwys a haner (10 1/2 lbs). Bendithiwyd hi Rhagfyr 5ed gan Christian L. Larson, ei henw Ann Roberts.
Logan City, December 26, 1881	Logan City Rhagfyr 26ain 1881
At fifty-five minutes past seven in the morning, Margaret Goodman, wife of Thomas J. Roberts, gave birth to a fine son weighing nine pounds. He was blessed by Thomas McNeil on March 2, 1882, and named David William Roberts.	Margaret Goodman, gwraig i Thomas J. Roberts, am bum munud a phumdeg wedi saith yn y bore, a rodd enedigaeth i fab glan yn pwysu naw pwys. Bendithiwyd ef gan Thomas McNeil Mawrth 2ail 1882, ei enw David William Roberts.
Logan City, November 13, 1882	Logan City Tachwedd 13eg 1882
In the Third Ward, David Robert Roberts was ordained by Robert Davidson to the office of deacon in the Aaronic Priesthood.	Yn y Trydydd Ward ordeiniwyd David Robert Roberts gan Robert Davidson i swydd o Ddiacon yn yr Offeiriadaeth Aaron.

Editorial note: - This page begins a new series of dated family and church entries and does not continue the Margaret Goodman Davies biography on page 95. - RDR PDF page 22 is a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel. RDR adds Margaret Hughes's later blessing and name after the March 1881 birth, information not present in this Welsh entry. - The Welsh October heading appears to read `Hydref 21ain 1881`; RDR gives October 22, 1881. The sources have not been harmonized. - The Welsh writes `Robert Davidson`; RDR writes `Robert Davieson`. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page 97 Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Logan City, February 1, 1883	Logan City Chwefror 1af 1883
Conar Hughes sent a letter to [unclear in Welsh], informing us that his wife Jane, our sister, had given birth to a boy on January 17, 1883, at twenty minutes past one in the morning. He was blessed by David R. Bowen on March 1 and named Robert Richard Hughes.	Mi anfonodd lythyr at [unclear: deulu ni] Conar Hughes yn ein hysbysu fod ei wraig Jane, ein chwaer, wedi rhoi genedigaeth i fachgen ar Ionawr 17eg 1883 am ugain munud wedi un (20.1) yn y bore. Bendithiwyd ef gan David R. Bowen Mawrth 1af, ei enw Robert Richard Hughes.
Logan City, January 4, 1884	Logan City Ionawr 4ydd 1884
In memory of Robert Davies, who was born in Ruthin, Denbighshire, Wales, on February 25, 1819. He was baptized in Ruthin by John Parry in 1853. He died in Logan City on January 2, 1884, at ten minutes past one in the morning. He was buried on the third. The meeting was opened by Bishop Henry Ballard; [unclear in Welsh] by Georg Painter; Bishop Ballard preached. His counselor Christian L. Larson [spoke] in a pleasing manner, and a variety of songs were provided by Georg Morrison. John Thomas closed the meeting. Tea was served by Christian L. Larson.	Er cofawdriaeth am Robert Davies a aned yn Rhuthun, Sir Ddinbych, Cymru, Chwefror 25ain 1819. Bedyddiwyd ef yn Rhuthun gan John Parry yn y flwyddyn 1853. Bu farw yn Logan City Ionawr 2ail 1884 am ddeng munud wedi un yn y bore (1.10). Claddwyd ef ar y 3ydd. Agorwyd y cwrdd gan yr Esgob Henry Ballard, cyhoeddwyd gan Georg Painter, bregethwyd gan yr Esgob Ballard. Ei gynghorwyr Christian L. Larson mewn modd dymunol a chymerth amrywiaeth o ganiadau gan Georg Morrison, diweddiwyd gan John Thomas. Gwasanaenwyd y te gan Christian L. Larson.
Robert Davies is the father-in-law of Thomas J. Roberts.	Robert Davies yw dad ynghyfraith Thomas J. Roberts.

Editorial note: - The first entry is a self-contained February 1883 record rather than a continuation from page 96. RDR PDF page 22 is a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel. - The Robert Davies memorial has a confirmed parallel on RDR PDF page 23. RDR clarifies the broad funeral sequence but cannot safely resolve every Welsh verb or phrase; those uncertainties remain explicit. - The manuscript writes `Georg Painter` and `Georg Morrison`. These source forms have not been normalized. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page 98

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: confirmed | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
January 19, 1884	Ionawr 19ain 1884
Robert D. Roberts was baptized in Farmington, Davis County, Utah, on April 4, 1858, by my father, David R. Roberts. I was confirmed by the same person at the water's edge.	Robert D. Roberts a fedyddiwyd yn Farmington, Sw. Davies, Utah, Ebrill 4ydd 1858 gan fy nhad David R. Roberts. Cadarnhawyd fi gan yr un ar lan y dwr.
January 6, 1884	Ionawr 6ed 1884
I was ordained [unclear technical quorum wording in Welsh] to an office in the Seventy by Silvester Low.	Ordeiniwyd fi [unclear: ddeugainfed] er mwyn swydd (gwrwm) o'r deg a thrigain gan Silvester Low.
R. D. Roberts	R. D. Roberts
Logan City, January 6, 1884	Logan City Ionawr 6ed 1884
Thomas J. Roberts was ordained to the [unclear technical quorum wording in Welsh] quorum of the Seventy by Aaron Thatcher.	Ordeiniwyd Thomas J. Roberts i'r [unclear: ddeugainfed] cwrdd (gwrwm) o'r deg a thrigain gan Aaron Thatcher.
December 19, 1883	Rhagfyr 19eg 1883
At a quarter to nine in the evening (8:45), Sarah Ann, wife of Daniel Roberts, gave birth to a daughter weighing twelve pounds. She was blessed by Christian L. Larson in Logan on March 16, 1884.	Sarah Ann, gwraig Daniel Roberts, a rodd enedigaeth i ferch am dri chwarter wedi wyth (8.45) yn yr hwyr yn pwyso 12 lbs. Bendithiwyd hi gan Christian L. Larson yn Logan Mawrth 16eg 1884.
Logan City, June 3, 1884	Logan City Mehefin 3ydd 1884
Hugh Roberts was baptized by William C. Partington and confirmed by John Johnson on the same day.	Hugh Roberts a fedyddiwyd gan William C. Partington, cadarnhawyd ef gan John Johnson yr un dydd.

Editorial note: - The page contains five separate entries and does not continue the Robert Davies memorial on page 97. - RDR PDFs 23–24 are confirmed close-paraphrase parallels. RDR identifies the January 6 ordinations with the Fourth Quorum of Seventy, but the specialized Welsh quorum wording remains uncertain and has not been forced from the English witness. - The explicit `R. D. Roberts` signature confirms Robert D. Roberts as scribe and content author for the signed first-person entry. Strong handwriting continuity supports probable attribution for the other entries. - The June 1884 entry ends on this page. PDF page 99 begins a distinct May 1877 historical narrative and then changes to January 1885 temple records. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page 99 Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Logan City, May 16, 1877	Logan City Mai 16eg 1877
Brigham Young and his companions came here, and on the seventeenth the place was measured for laying the foundation of the Temple. On the eighteenth the eastern [ground] was first broken and the place was dedicated, and on September 19, 1879, [unclear in Welsh: foundation stones were placed] at every corner, with John Taylor presiding. On May 17, 1884, it was completed and dedicated. A meeting was held for three days, and I had the privilege of going inside on the second [unclear in Welsh]. After it had been dedicated, each day was for visitors, who had the opportunity to go through most of the rooms.	Daeth Brigham Young a'i gydgyfeillion yma, ac ar yr 17eg meulldiwyd y lle i dorri sylfaen y Teml; ar y 18eg torrwyd y dwyrain gyntaf a chysegrwyd y lle, a Medi 19eg 1879 [unclear: gosodwyd cerrig] sylfaen ar bob cornel, John Taylor yn llywyddu. Mai 17eg 1884 orffennwyd a chysegrwyd hi. Cynaliwyd cwrdd am dri diwrnod a chefais i fraint i fyned i mewn ar yr ail [unclear: ddarllediad]. Y wedi cysegredig pob dydd i'r ymwelddifa, a chawsant y cyfleustra i fyned trwy y rhan fwyaf o'r ystafelloedd.
Logan City, January 21, 1885	Logan City Ionawr 21ain 1885
Work for the dead began in the Logan Temple. I had been baptized for thirty-three in Salt Lake City on October 13, 1875. I received the endowment for my father.	Dechreu gwaith dros y meirw yn Teml Logan. Canys mi fedyddio dros tri ar ddeg ar hugain yn Ninas y Llan Halen Hydref 13eg 1875. Cefais fy ngwisgaeth dros fy nhad.
I was confirmed by Thomas Moore for:	Cadarnhawyd fi gan Thomas Moore:
January 21 — David Robert Roberts — by Fredrig Pine	Ion. 21 — David Robert Roberts — gan Fredrig Pine
22 — Robert Roberts — [ditto] by Milton D. Hammond	22 — Robert Roberts — [ditto] gan Milton D. Hammond
23 — Thomas Richards — [ditto]	23 — Thomas Richards — [ditto]
28 — Edward Griffith — by Thomas Cordon	28 — Edward Griffith — gan Thomas Cordon

Editorial note: - The page has two distinct chronological and structural segments. The May 1877 heading begins a retrospective Logan Temple construction/dedication account that extends through May 1884; the January 1885 heading begins a dated proxy-confirmation list. - The chronological jump is therefore a copied or retrospective historical record, not evidence that the page was physically written in 1877. The manuscript does not state its immediate source. - RDR PDF page 24 is a confirmed paraphrase/expansion parallel for both segments. RDR clarifies the broad temple chronology and ordinance context but does not resolve every Welsh word. - The proxy list preserves the manuscript's name and date order. Relationship and ordinance details have not been inferred from adjacency. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page

100

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
January 29 — Richard Thomas — I was confirmed by John Jacob	Ionawr 29 — Richard Thomas — cadarnhawyd fi gan John Jacob
30 — Thomas Williams — [ditto] by Thomas Moore	30 — Thomas Williams — [ditto] gan Thomas Moore
February 11 — Rowland Morris — [ditto] by Georg Barbor	Chwefror 11 — Rowland Morris — [ditto] gan Georg Barbor
12 — Griffith Morris — [ditto] by Ffradrig Pine	12 — Griffith Morris — [ditto] gan Ffradrig Pine
13 — John Roberts — had been ordained in the old country	13 — John Roberts — wedi ei ordeinio yn yr hen wlad
18 — Robert Roberts — [ditto] by Hans L. Christensen — uncle	18 — Robert Roberts — [ditto] gan Hans L. Christensen — ewythr
19 — William Roberts — [ditto] by John Jacob — my father's brother	19 — William Roberts — [ditto] gan John Jacob — brawd fy nhad
20 — William Roberts — [ditto] by Thomas Moral	20 — William Roberts — [ditto] gan Thomas Moral
25 — Richard Thomas — by Thomas Moore	25 — Richard Thomas — gan Thomas Moore
26 — Robert Parry — [ditto] by John Jacob	26 — Robert Parry — [ditto] gan John Jacob
27 — Morris Isaac — [ditto] by Nials C. Edlyson	27 — Morris Isaac — [ditto] gan Nials C. Edlyson
March 5 — Edward Roberts — by Thomas Cordon	Mawrth 5ed — Edward Roberts — gan Thomas Cordon
6 — Salmon Roberts — by Thomas McNiel	6 — Salmon Roberts — gan Thomas McNiel
April 1 — Robert Richards — by George Barbor	Ebrill 1 — Robert Richards — gan George Barbor

Editorial note: - This page continues the January 1885 proxy-confirmation list begun on page 99. Dates, deceased names, officiators, and the two written relationship notes are retained in manuscript order. - RDR PDF page 25 is a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel. The Welsh list structure supplies the repeated confirmation context; RDR represents repeated wording with quotation marks. - Source forms such as `Georg Barbor`, `Ffradrig Pine`, `Thomas Moral`, `Nials C. Edlyson`, and `Thomas McNiel` have not been normalized. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page
101

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
April 2 — Rowland Morris — by Georg Barbor — uncle	Ebrill 2 — Rowland Morris — gan Georg Barbor — ewythr
9 — John Thomas — [ditto] by Georg Barbor	9 — John Thomas — [ditto] gan Georg Barbor
10 — Henry Morris — [ditto] by Ffradrig Thicar	10 — Henry Morris — [ditto] gan Ffradrig Thicar
16 — William Williams — by Ffradrig Thicar	16 — William Williams — gan Ffradrig Thicar
19 — William Humphry — by N. W. Merrill	19 — William Humphry — gan N. W. Merrill
March 10, 1886 — William Hughes — by James A. Leishman	Mawrth 10fed 1886 — William Hughes — gan James A. Leishman
11 — William Jones — [ditto] by James A. Leishman	11 — William Jones — [ditto] gan James A. Leishman
12 — Robert Williams — by Edwin Curtis	12 — Robert Williams — gan Edwin Curtis

Editorial note: - The first five lines continue the 1885 proxy-confirmation list from page 100. A new dated group begins on March 10, 1886; substantial blank space follows the March 12 entry. - RDR PDFs 25–26 are confirmed close-paraphrase parallels. RDR uses quotation marks for repeated ordinance wording while the Welsh manuscript uses ditto marks. - The relationship term `ewythr` is attached to Rowland Morris in the manuscript; no further kinship has been inferred. - Source forms such as `Georg Barbor`, `Ffradrig Thicar`, and `William Humphry` have not been normalized. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page
102

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Logan City, February 11, 1885	Dinas Logan Chwefror 11eg 1885
Work began in the Temple for those who had gone into the spirit world, receiving endowments for the following:	Dechra gwaith yn y Teml dros y rhai sydd wedi myned i'r byd ysbrydol, cael Cynnysgaeth dros y rhai a ganlyn:
11 — Cathrina Thomas Roberts — for Jane Parry	11eg — Cathrina Thomas Roberts — dros Jane Parry
12 — [ditto] — for Ann Morris	12 — [ditto] — dros Ann Morris
13 — [ditto] — Cathrina Uch Richards	13 — [ditto] — Cathrina Uch Richards
25 — [ditto] — Margaret Owens	25 — [ditto] — Margaret Owens
26 — [ditto] — Elizabeth Thomas	26 — [ditto] — Elizabeth Thomas
27 — [ditto] — Cathrina Richards	27 — [ditto] — Cathrina Richards
February 11 — Ann Roberts Hopkins — for [unclear: Elizabeth Griffith Catharine]	Chwefror 11 — Ann Roberts Hopkins — dros [unclear: Elizabeth Griffith Catharine]
12 — [ditto] — Elizabeth Roberts	12 — [ditto] — Elizabeth Roberts
13 — [ditto] — Ann Parry	13 — [ditto] — Ann Parry
25 — [ditto] — Elinor Humphries	25 — [ditto] — Elinor Humphries
26 — [ditto] — Ann Roberts	26 — [ditto] — Ann Roberts
27 — [ditto] — Jane Richards	27 — [ditto] — Jane Richards

Editorial note: - This page begins a women’s proxy-endowment list and does not continue the March 1886 men’s confirmation group on page 101. The journal has reordered record groups chronologically. - RDR PDF page 27 is a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel, but several legible Welsh name forms differ from RDR. The Welsh appears to give `Jane Parry`, `Elinor Humphries`, and `Jane Richards`, where RDR gives Ann Parry, Elias Roberts, and Lewis Roberts respectively. The sources have not been harmonized. - The faint sequence following Ann Roberts Hopkins remains materially uncertain. RDR's own rendering is also marked uncertain and has not been used to force the Welsh. - Ditto marks preserve repeated proxy/ordinance context; no relationships have been inferred from list adjacency. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page
103

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
February 11 — Margaret Goodman Davies Roberts — for David Evans	Chwefror 11 — Margaret Goodman Davies Roberts — dros David Evans
12 — [ditto] — for Laura Parry	12 — [ditto] — dros Laura Parry
March 26 — Ann Roberts Hughes — for Elinor Morris	Mawrth 26 — Ann Roberts Hughes — dros Elinor Morris
27 — [ditto] — Elizabeth Morris	27 — [ditto] — Elizabeth Morris
28 — [ditto] — Cathrina Morris	28 — [ditto] — Cathrina Morris
March 10, 1886 — Ann Roberts Hopkins — for Elinor Griffith	Mawrth 10fed 1886 — Ann Roberts Hopkins — dros Elinor Griffith
11 — [ditto] — Margaret Roberts	11 — [ditto] — Margaret Roberts
12 — [ditto] — Elinor Roberts	12 — [ditto] — Elinor Roberts
March 11, 1886 — Cathreina Thomas Roberts — for Jane Thomas	Mawrth 11eg 1886 — Cathreina Thomas Roberts — dros Jane Thomas
12 — [ditto] — Margaret Jones	12 — [ditto] — Margaret Jones
March 19, 1886 — Sarah Ann Hughes Roberts — for Margaret Richards	Mawrth 19eg 1886 — Sarah Ann Hughes Roberts — dros Margaret Richards
18 — [ditto] — for Gwen Williams	18 — [ditto] — dros Gwen Williams
Mrs. Margaret Jones, wife of David Jones	Mrs Margaret Jones, gwraig David Jones

Editorial note: - This page continues the women’s proxy list from page 102 in four blank-separated proxy groups. It ends with a relationship statement identifying Margaret Jones as David Jones's wife. - RDR PDFs 27–28 are confirmed close-paraphrase parallels. The Welsh appears to read `Elinor Roberts` in the March 10 group, while RDR gives Catherine Roberts; the discrepancy is preserved. - The manuscript writes March 19 before a following line dated 18. That apparent date-order irregularity remains as written. - Ditto marks preserve repeated proxy/ordinance context. No additional kinship has been inferred. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - PDF page 104 changes to dense sealing pairs and requires a separate structure-focused pass. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page
104

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Logan City, February [unclear: 21], 1885	Dinas Logan Chwefror [unclear: 21ain] 1885
The following names were married and sealed in the everlasting covenant and to the blessings of the Gospel by A. C. Tellefsen:	Yr enwau canlynol a briodwyd ac a seliwyd i'r Cyfamod tragwyddol ac a bendithion yr Efengyl gan A. C. Tellefsen:
Laura Parry and Cathreina Richards to David Robert Roberts	Laura Parry a Cathreina Richards i David Robert Roberts
Proxies: Robert D. Roberts and Cathreina Thomas Roberts	Dirprwywyr: Robert D. Roberts a Cathreina Thomas Roberts
Linet Jones and Jane Richards to John Roberts	Linet Jones a Jane Richards i John Roberts
Ann Roberts to Robert Parry	Ann Roberts i Robert Parry
Ann Parry to Edward Griffith	Ann Parry i Edward Griffith
Proxies: [unclear: Robert D. Roberts] and Ann Roberts Hopkins	Dirprwywyr: [unclear: Robert D. Roberts] ac Ann Roberts Hopkins
Margaret Owens to Richard Thomas	Margaret Owens i Richard Thomas
Proxies: Robert D. Roberts and Cathreina Thomas Roberts	Dirprwywyr: Robert D. Roberts a Cathreina Thomas Roberts
March 12, 1886 — Jane Thomas to Morris Isaac	Mawrth 12fed 1886 — Jane Thomas i Morris Isaac
Margaret Jones to William Hughes	Margaret Jones i William Hughes
Proxies: Robert David Roberts and Cathreina Thomas Roberts	Dirprwywyr: Robert David Roberts a Cathreina Thomas Roberts

Editorial note: - The heading uses `briodwyd ac a seliwyd` (“were married and sealed”) and `Cyfamod tragwyddol` (“everlasting covenant”). The manuscript then groups named sealing subjects with explicit `Dirprwywyr` (“proxies”) lines. - The page is not a simple two-column husband/wife register. Several groups contain more than two subject names before the proxy line; their exact relationship has not been inferred. - RDR PDF page 29 is a confirmed close-paraphrase/normalized parallel. RDR reorganizes the opening names and supplies clearer modern ordinance prose, but that arrangement has not replaced the Welsh manuscript order. - The heading date remains uncertain in the Welsh image; RDR gives February 21, 1885. - Source forms including `Laura Parry`, `Cathreina Richards`, `Linet Jones`, and `Cathreina Thomas Roberts` remain unnormalized. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page
105

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
March 17, 1886 — Elinor Griffith to Edward Roberts	Mawrth 17eg 1886 — Elinor Griffith i Edward Roberts
Proxies: Robert David Roberts and Ann Roberts Hopkins	Dirprwywyr: Robert David Roberts ac Ann Roberts Hopkins
March 22, 1886 — Mrs. Cathreine Jones to Henry Jones	Mawrth 22ain 1886 — Mrs Cathreine Jones i Henry Jones
Proxies: Thomas David Roberts and Margaret Goodman Davies Roberts	Dirprwywyr: Thomas David Roberts a Margaret Goodman Davies Roberts

Editorial note: - This page completes two blank-separated sealing groups continued from page 104. Each subject pair is followed by an explicit `Dirprwywyr` proxy pair. - RDR PDF page 29 is a confirmed close-paraphrase parallel. The Welsh spelling `Cathreine` is preserved rather than normalized to RDR's Catherine. - No spouse, parent, child, or other relationship has been inferred beyond the manuscript's `i` construction and explicit proxy labels. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - Substantial blank space follows the March 22 group. PDF page 106 begins a different, dense family-line record structure. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page

106

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Logan City, January 27, 1885	Dinas Logan Ionawr 27ain 1885
The names below were baptized by [unclear in Welsh: Lle Thomas]. They were confirmed by Charles C. [unclear: Pen] in the Temple. Proxy: Robert D. Roberts.	Yr enwau isod a fedyddiwyd gan [unclear: Lle Thomas]. Cadarnhawyd hwy gan Charles C. [unclear: Pen] yn y Teml. Dirprwy: Robert D. Roberts.
- William Hughes — married to my mother's female cousin - Griffith Jones - William Jones — my mother's male cousin - Robert Williams — my mother's male cousin - Richard Thomas — my mother's brother - Morris Isaac — my mother's brother-in-law - Robert Roberts - Edward Roberts — my father's brother - Henry Jones — my father's male cousin - William Jones — [unclear relationship notation] - John Williams — my father's male cousin - David Jones - Thomas Jones - Henry Jones — son of Thomas Jones - Owen Williams — my male cousin - Edward Griffith — my father's grandfather - Robert Parry — my father's brother-in-law - William Humphry - John Humphry - Ebenezer Humphry — [unclear group relationship]	- William Hughes — yn briod a chyfnither fy mam - Griffith Jones - William Jones — cefnder fy mam - Robert Williams — cefnder fy mam - Richard Thomas — brawd fy mam - Morris Isaac — brawd ynghyfraith fy mam - Robert Roberts - Edward Roberts — brawd fy nhad - Henry Jones — cefnder fy nhad - William Jones — [unclear relationship notation] - John Williams — cefnder fy nhad - David Jones - Thomas Jones - Henry Jones — mab i Thomas Jones - Owen Williams — cefnder i mi - Edward Griffith — daid fy nhad - Robert Parry — brawd ynghyfraith fy nhad - William Humphry - John Humphry - Ebenezer Humphry — [unclear group relationship]
April 16, 1889	Ebrill 16eg 1889
I was baptized for William Humphrey, the husband of my father's sister. Baptizer: Arvid Hurst; confirmed by Niels C. Edlyson.	Cefais fy medyddio dros William Humphrey, gwr priod a chwaer fy nhad. Bedyddiwr Arvid Hurst; cadarnhau gan Niels C. Edlyson.

Editorial note: - Page 106 has two structures: a January 1885 shared proxy-baptism list with individual kinship annotations, followed by a separate April 1889 baptism record. - Genealogy and ordinance data remain separate: the heading supplies baptism, confirmation, temple, and proxy context; kinship terms belong only to their written name lines. - Explicit terms include `yn briod a` (married to), `cyfnither` (female cousin), `cefnider` (male cousin), `brawd` (brother), `brawd ynghyfraith` (brother-in-law), `mab` (son), and `daid` (grandfather). - RDR PDF page 31 is a confirmed close-paraphrase/normalized parallel for the January list. Its opening officiator wording and the William/Henry Jones relationships are also uncertain, so RDR was not used to force those Welsh readings. - The April 1889 record has no clear parallel on RDR page 31 and is retained as a separate manuscript witness. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page
107

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
January 29, 1885	Ionawr 29ain 1885
Cathreina Thomas Roberts was baptized in the Temple for the following names by Thomas H. Smith and confirmed by Charles C. Olsen:	Cafodd Cathreina Thomas Roberts ei bedyddio dros yr enwau a ganlyn yn y Teml gan Thomas H. Smith, a chadarnhawyd hi gan Charles C. Olsen:
- Margaret Jones — her female cousin - Cathreina Williams — wife of her mother's male cousin - Margaret Owens — her sister-in-law - Cathreina Jones — wife of her mother's male cousin - Gwen Williams — wife of her father's male cousin	- Margaret Jones — ei chyfnither - Cathreina Williams — gwraig i gefnder ei mam hi - Margaret Owens — ei chwaer ynghyfraith - Cathreina Jones — gwraig i gefnder ei mam hi - Gwen Williams — gwraig i gefnder ei thad hi
February 3, 1885	Chwefror 3ydd 1885
Ann Roberts Hopkins was baptized for the following names by Robert Price and confirmed by N. C. Edlyson:	Bedyddiwyd Ann Roberts Hopkins dros yr enwau a ganlyn gan Robert Price; cadarnhawyd hi gan N. C. Edlyson:
- Elinor Roberts — [unclear relationship phrase] - Gweneth Jones — her father's female cousin - Laura Parry — her mother's female cousin - Margaret Jones — wife of [unclear: her grandfather] - Margaret Jones — [unclear relationship phrase]	- Elinor Roberts — [unclear relationship phrase] - Gweneth Jones — cyfnither ei thad - Laura Parry — cyfnither ei mam hi - Margaret Jones — gwraig i [unclear: ei thaid] - Margaret Jones — [unclear relationship phrase]
March 3, 1885	Mawrth 3ydd 1885
Ann Roberts Hopkins was baptized for the following names by H. C. Smart and confirmed by Thomas H. Smith:	Bedyddiwyd Ann Roberts Hopkins dros yr enwau a ganlyn gan H. C. Smart; cadarnhawyd hi gan Thomas H. Smith:
- Elinor Griffith — her father's sister-in-law - Laura Richards — her mother's female cousin - Margaret Richards — [ditto]	- Elinor Griffith — chwaer ynghyfraith ei thad - Laura Richards — cyfnither ei mam - Margaret Richards — [ditto]

Editorial note: - Page 107 contains three blank-separated proxy-baptism groups. Each heading identifies the proxy participant, officiators, and date; each subordinate line preserves only its written kinship phrase. - Explicit terms include `cyfnither` (female cousin), `gwraig` (wife), `chwaer ynghyfraith` (sister-in-law), `mam` (mother), and `tad` (father). - RDR PDFs 31–32 are confirmed close-paraphrase/normalized parallels. The Welsh headings appear to give January 29, February 3, and March 3, while RDR gives January 27, February 2, and March 2. The dates have not been harmonized. - RDR reads Jane Roberts, Linet Jones, Margaret Evans, Ann Richards, and other normalized or differing forms where this Welsh page appears to give Elinor Roberts, Gweneth Jones, a repeated Margaret Jones, Laura Richards, and related variants. The Welsh forms remain primary here. - Two relationship phrases in the February group remain materially uncertain and have not been reconstructed from RDR. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - PDF page 108 begins a sparse 1886 ordinance list without the same dense kinship annotations. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page
108

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
March 10, 1886 — Margaret Goodman Davies Roberts — for [unclear: represented-name sequence Ann / Laura Richards]	Mawrth 10fed 1886 — Margaret Goodman Davies Roberts — dros [unclear: represented-name sequence Ann / Laura Richards]
11 — [ditto] — Linet Morris	11 — [ditto] — Linet Morris
12 — [ditto] — Mrs. Cathreine Jones	12 — [ditto] — Mrs Cathreine Jones
March 10, 1886 — Thomas D. Roberts — for Griffith Jones; [unclear: ordinance wording] by M. D. Merrill	Mawrth 10fed 1886 — Thomas D. Roberts — dros Griffith Jones; [unclear: ordinance wording] gan M. D. Merrill
11 — for William Jones; confirmed by James A. Leishman	11 — dros William Jones; cadarnhawyd gan James A. Leishman
12 — Henry Jones — [ditto] by Edwin Curtis	12 — Henry Jones — [ditto] gan Edwin Curtis

Editorial note: - Page 108 contains two sparse March 1886 ordinance groups. It does not continue page 107's dense kinship lists, and no explicit family relationships are written here. - The first group names Margaret Goodman Davies Roberts as proxy/participant and then lists represented women using ditto structure. The opening represented-name sequence remains uncertain. - The second group names Thomas D. Roberts and three represented men. Confirmation is explicit on the William Jones line; the repeated ordinance context and the Griffith Jones wording remain partly uncertain. - RDR PDF page 28 is a confirmed close-paraphrase/normalized parallel for the first group. RDR PDF page 26 is a probable reordered parallel for the second group, but differs in date grouping, Henry Jones/Lewis, and the Merrill initials. The Welsh has not been conformed to RDR. - Source forms `Linet Morris`, `Cathreine Jones`, and `M. D. Merrill` remain as written. - Handwriting continuity supports probable attribution to Robert D. Roberts as content author and scribe. No signature or secondary hand appears. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.

PDF page

109

Family history and journal

Source: Primarily Welsh; later additions may include English | Content author: Robert D. Roberts | Scribe: Robert D. Roberts | Attribution: probable | Status: needs-review

Modern English	Welsh transcription
Logan City, January 5, 1895	Logan City Ionawr 5ed 1895
William John Hopkins was baptized by Charles Limberg and confirmed by John Talley.	William John Hopkins a fedyddiwyd gan Charles Limberg; cadarnhawyd ef gan John Talley.
Logan City, April 9, 1888	Logan City Ebrill 9ed 1888
I received a letter from Samaria from Conar Hughes informing us that Jane, our sister and his wife, had given birth to a little girl weighing ten pounds on March 31 at fifteen minutes past twelve in the morning (12:15 midnight).	Derbyniais lythyr o Samaria oddiwrth Conar Hughes yn ein hysbysu i fod Jane ein chwaer, ei wraig, wedi rhoi genedigaeth i ferch fach yn pwysu deg pwys Mawrth 31ain am bymtheg munud wedi deuddeg yn y bore (12.15 midnight).
We note a communication from Samaria dated May 3, 1888, informing us that the little girl born in April 1888 to Conar and our sister Jane Hughes had been blessed by Bishop Jonah Evans on May 3, 1888; her name was Cathrine Roberts Hughes.	Nodwn o Samaria ddyddiedig Mai 3ydd 1888 yn ein hysbysu fod y ferch fach a anwyd Ebrill 1888 i Conar a Jane Hughes ein chwaer wedi cael ei bendithio gan Jonah Evans yr esgob Mai 3ydd 1888; ei henw Cathrine Roberts Hughes.
Logan City, October 17, 1897	Logan City Hydref 17eg 1897
Thomas D. Roberts set out on his journey to Wales, from his [unclear Welsh travel/mission wording concerning departure from Salt Lake City].	Thomas D. Roberts yn cychwyn ar ei daith i Gymru, o'i [unclear: cenhadaeth hyd yn cychwyn o'r Ddinas y Llyn Halen ar y Sulfaol].

Editorial note: - Page 109 contains three independent, chronologically reordered records: a January 1895 baptism, an April/May 1888 Hughes-family letter summary, and an October 1897 Thomas D. Roberts journey/mission note. - RDR PDF page 33 is a confirmed close-paraphrase/expansion parallel for the first two records. RDR supplies fuller county/place context and normalizes some names, but those additions are not inserted into the Welsh transcription. - The Welsh writes `Charles Limberg` and `Cathrine Roberts Hughes`; RDR writes Charles Learnberg and Catherine Roberts Hughes. - The final October 1897 entry has no secure RDR parallel from the targeted search. Its closing travel/mission wording remains materially uncertain and has not been associated with RDR's distinct 1891 European mission account. - The handwriting remains continuous with the preceding Robert D. Roberts section, supporting probable content-author/scribe attribution. No signature or secondary hand appears. - PDF page 110 is solely the physical back cover. Page 109 therefore ends the substantive family-history/journal section without textual continuation. - No occurrence of `bach` or a distinct Robert-derived nickname is visible.